

BRAND goes back into office, for a week or for a career as the case may be, under an overwhelming mandate of national helplessness. Now, if he will rise to that mandate, he may give France the benefit without the dangers of a dictatorship. Brand, in his recent defeat, stood as an opportunist, ready to accept any balanced tax bill on which the deputies could agree. But now that it is demonstrated that they can agree on nothing, he is in a position to propose his own plan and to demand that they accept it unless they are able to offer something else. Thus, with his increased prestige and the menace of the falling franc, he may be able to club something through, without proclaiming himself outright dictator.

THIS Aristide Brand is easily the most interesting figure of contemporary France. Born sixty-four years ago, of a middle-class provincial family, he has run the whole course from obscurity to eminence and from radicalism to conservatism. He began his public career as a contributor and editor of anarchist papers. Then he organized the labor-union movement and became leader of one of the Socialist parties. He was the author of the law for the separation of church and state, but broke with his radical associates in advocating moderation in its implementation. Accepting office in a "bourgeois" ministry in 1906, he was expelled from his Socialist party, and since then he has veered toward moderately progressive Republicanism. In 1910 this former union organizer broke a railroad strike by calling the trainmen to active military service and commanding them, as soldiers, to run the trains. During the war, his leadership of the Center, his skill as a conciliator and his persuasive eloquence made him invaluable at more than one crisis. Now, premier for the ninth time, he is hailed as the only hope of France.

THIS is the picture. But let it not be supposed that it appears so to his political enemies. Nothing in the world is less more bitterly vituperative than in France. In 1924 Leon Daudet, Royalist leader, issued as a campaign document a book which he called "Moloch et Minerve." As nearly as one can turn Daudet's brutally idiomatic French into readable English, this is, in part, what he said of Brand:

"The representative type of this political period (among others almost as stinking) is that ruffian Aristide Brand. Born in the gutter at Saint-Nazaire; raised in the parental brothel on the knees of his inmates; himself convicted in 1892 of an offense against public decency, joining the police after this exploit, and then police stool-pigeon on the staff of 'La Lanterne,' grand master of the University ten years after, though he could scarcely read and could not write at all; author of the separation law and in consequence seven times president of the Council, the scoundrel in 1921—the career of Brand exemplifies the degeneracy which democracy has brought upon our public life. It seems natural enough to the fine gentlemen and ladies, who in fear of anarchy play at parlor anarchism, and who have finally put the seal of good society on the career of this vile-outcast, that the career of Brand is the career of a competent secretary (in 1921 Philippe Berthelot) belched out with much vehemence, but lacking in all that makes real eloquence, especially sincerity. This humpbacked scarecrow with the phiz of a ghost-photograph, always has his hand on his heart, and speaks with the servile attention of an usher. He is not a man, but a manikin; soft and pliable, always with somebody else inside, usually one of those vicelocks of the political police who swarm in France. In the early part of his life, Aristide Brand was the goat and the spy of the revolutionists, who, armed with his financial backers, in the second he is the worldly Tribune, who dines at the table of Greek princes, but changes his socks only once a month."

This—literally this scurrilous screed—was published by Alphonse Daudet's son, head of the most aristocratic party in France, as a campaign document. We may be abusive enough in some American politics, but it is more than a century since we have produced anything like this.

ONE more Brand story: Americans who attended the Washington conference in 1921 remember Brand for his intense, somewhat theatrical eloquence, and the "velvet voice" which he earned for himself with his sobriquet of "Tendoneur," the putter-to-sleep. At the opening session, after the representatives of other nations had spoken, United States senators in the gallery began shouting for "Brand! Brand!" Characteristically enough, their pronunciation was such that Brand did not recognize his own name. But William Jennings Bryan had to be held down forcibly by the coat tails, by William Allen White, to keep him from volunteering an oration. Finally Brand was made to understand that it was his name which the senators were trying to pronounce, and responded in an impassioned appeal for France, which deeply moved everybody, but also made it impossible to do anything with the question of land disarmament.

IT IS in this picturesque, theatrical, opportunistic, resourceful, sometimes devious but always appealing figure that fills the center of the world's stage today. The fate of France, and to some extent of the world, is in his hands.

Six Prisoners Flee Los Angeles Jail

CLUB GUARD AND ESCAPE NEW BASTILE

2 KILLERS AT LIBERTY

Men Attack Jailer in Tank And Effect Most Daring Of Series of Outbreaks

Armed with sawed-off shotguns, 20 deputy sheriffs today are guarding roads leading into Orange county, in belief that the three desperadoes who escaped from the Los Angeles county jail may be headed this way.

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—Six prisoners attacked a jailer in the new $600,000 Hall of Justice building here today and escaped. Three were recaptured, but the others made a clean getaway.

It was the sixth successful break from the expensive bastille since it was occupied less than a month ago, when it was pronounced escape proof.

One of the escaping prisoners was seriously hurt when he fell in his flight and injured his spine. He was captured.

The injured man is Mathey Decker, a murderer, under life sentence to San Quentin.

Killer is at Large

Another slayer, Charles J. Fitzgerald, is at large. He was held for the murder of a constable at Alhambra.

The two others at liberty are Earl J. Clark, a cursed murderer, and Robert Wilson, wanted for robbery. Two of the others who broke the jail are Allen Rodway and James Thompson, both robbers.

A bulletin, issued by the sheriff's office, stated the escape "was effected from the ninth floor by violence against a guard, E. W. Daniels."

Guard Attacked in Tank

Daniels, entering the tank in which the men were confined, was suddenly struck down by a blow on the head by a "sap," formed from the brass light plate on top of the cell, which had been ripped from its mooring.

With the guard "out," the prisoners dashed into the barless corridor, wrenched off one of the quarter-inch bolt window bars and stepped on the fire escape.

They descended the fire escape to the third floor, where they took to the stairway, and rushed to the main floor and into the street through the lobby of the building.

Bystanders caught two of the men, and three got away. Decker was found later, hobbling away from the jail with an injured spine. He had fallen two stories in his flight, and was badly injured.

The prisoners who escaped had been removed from the tenth to the ninth floor of the jail last week, when they were discovered "digging out."

This was done so that, if any further "digging operations" were successful, the prisoners would still find themselves inside the jail after completing their work.

Escape Causes Sensation

The escape caused a sensation in downtown Los Angeles. Scores of workers enroute to their offices witnessed the dash from the Hall of Justice lobby and many of them took part in the chase after the fleeing criminals.

A squad of deputies, armed with sawed-off shotguns, climbed into automobiles and took up the trail of the missing trio.

The fugitives were described by the sheriff's office as follows:

Earl J. Clark, 2320 Two Hundred Fifty-first street, Harbor City, wanted for murder. Height five feet, eight inches; weight 170 pounds; white, age 26; relative: Grace Manis, San Angelo, Tex.

Charles J. Fitzgerald, 331 East Fourth street, Los Angeles; wanted for murder. Height, five feet, nine inches; weight 155 pounds; white; age 40; relatives: none.

Robert Wilson, Ajax hotel, Los Angeles, wanted for robbery. Height five feet, 10 inches; weight 155 pounds; white, aged 25; relative: Mrs. P. Shadel, 3863 Howard street, San Diego.

Cordon Around Prison

Jailer David Croushorn established a cordon of heavily-armed deputies around the entire jail. Officers with sawed-off shotguns were posted in all the corridors.

Investigation revealed that Daniels was suffering from a deep wound in the head. The guard, while in a serious condition, was expected to recover.

The jail, following the break, was a turmoil of excitement.

Jail Architect Before Grand Jury

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—Jack Bean, architect and designer of the new Los Angeles county jail, from which six murderers and robbers escaped today, was hauled before the grand jury today when it began an immediate investigation of the daring break.

The probe was ordered by Acting District Attorney Burton Fitts, upon demand of Sheriff William I. Traeger.

"The time has come to find out and fix responsibility for the situation in the county jail," Prosecutor Fitts said.

"This morning six men gained their liberty. Something is radically wrong," Bean went into the jury room armed with blueprints of the $600,000 Hall of Justice, with its $2,000,000 jail on the upper floors.

LEAGUE VOTE ON GERMANY IS DELAYED

Consideration of Berlin's Candidacy for Seat Is Postponed by Agreement

CAUSE OF EXCITEMENT

Future Meeting to Take Up Election of Teutons To Society of Nations

GENEVA, March 16.—Germany's admission to the League of Nations will be postponed for consideration at a future meeting of the league.

Following an evening meeting between representatives of Great Britain, France and Germany, Foreign Minister Stresemann said:

"Adjournment of the admission of Germany to the league has been agreed upon under certain conditions."

The condition is understood to be Brazil's decision whether or not to veto Germany's election to the council.

The League of Nations meeting has been thrown into indescribable confusion as a result of the announcement that Germany's admission to the league has been postponed.

Battle Within Council.

All the councillors apparently did not participate in the conference which resulted in the postponement decision, and a warm fight within the council resulted.

Although the postponement was officially announced only by the Germans, council members admitted, when the secret session ended at 7 p. m., that postponement until September had been agreed upon. The situation changed every minute while the councillors conferred.

Great Britain, Germany and France appear to have agreed on postponement of Germany's admission without consulting other members of the council. These now are seeking to dissuade the Locarno group from this expedient.

Some of the councillors apparently did not know what had taken place.

"I won't even believe official information hereafter," said Foreign Minister Stresemann as reports reached the German delegation that at this late date Brazil was reconsidering his decision to veto Germany's election to the council.

Spain was reported to be a protagonist of postponement in order to avoid a final decision regarding Spain and Brazil's candidacies for permanent council seats.

Communique to Be Issued.

A communique probably will be issued before tomorrow's assembly meeting in an effort to convince the world that complete agreement regarding council seats and related questions now exists so far as Europe is concerned and that postponement of the German admission is not the fault of Europe. By only this, it is believed, could the Locarno agreements survive the shock of postponement of Germany's admission to the league.

The commission then would be appointed to consider the entire matter of council memberships. It would report at the next regular league meeting.

VOTE IN SMALL TOWNS REDUCES LEAD BY WETS

NEW YORK, March 16.—With less than a week remaining before most of the newspaper polls now being taken on prohibition are ended, the ballots from smaller towns throughout the nation have cut down considerably the wide "wet" margins established in the large cities, figures gathered by the United Press today showed.

While in the majority of towns under 10,000 population the polls show a vote favoring modification or repeal of the Volstead act, the percentage against the drys is not as high as in more highly populated areas.

The approximate total of votes cast now is 2,000,000.

Newspaper Enterprise association—For modification, 549,264; for repeal, 376,112; for prohibition, 204,311.

Hearst newspapers and others co-operating with them—For modification, 100,923; against prohibition, 466,630; for wine and beer, 506,916; against wine and beer, 96,183.

Chicago Tribune, New York Daily News and co-operating papers—For wine and beer, 182,160; against wine and beer, 18,477.

Total in 400 Cities

The grand total of these three polls made up of about 400 newspapers, is: For existing law, 313,971; for changes, 1,614,442.

It may be considered significant that the Newspaper Enterprise association poll, which ends March 20, shows the smallest percentage for the "wets," and at the same time represents a larger number of small towns.

The United Press has obtained returns from 35 cities as a cross section of prohibition sentiment in widely scattered localities and in both large and small cities. Up to 11 a. m. today, these returns were distributed as 588,286 favoring repeal or modification, and 57,590 satisfied with existing law.

PROSPERITY REVEALED BY TAX RETURNS

Payments Break Records, Despite Exemption Increase and Drop in Rate

PROGRESS IN INDUSTRY

Enormous Gain in Chicago Region Is Attributed to Profits of Corporations

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16.—Income tax payments collected up to midnight throughout the country tell a story of increased prosperity in almost every section, reports to the United Press today said.

Despite reduction in the tax rate and the exemptions for individuals, many collectors reported greater receipts and a larger number of returns than ever before—indicating greater incomes and an increased number of persons whose incomes had come into the taxable class, despite higher exemption.

In the Chicago district, collections were some five to six million dollars more than last year—attributed largely to increased prosperity among corporations.

In the New York district, collections were estimated to be about the same as last year, despite reduced rates.

FOREIGNERS DEMAND CHINA REMOVE MINES FROM RIVER

PEKING, March 16.—Foreign naval commanders today delivered an ultimatum to the Chinese nationalist commander of the Taku forts giving him until noon of next Thursday to remove mines from the channel of the Pehlo river and otherwise to provide for an open navigation of the stream.

If the Chinese ignore the ultimatum, the foreign naval commanders would "take such measures as are necessary to remove or to suppress the obstruction of free navigation of the channel between Tientsin and the sea."

Peking is isolated by the obstruction of the channel, which is guarded by mines and by guns mounted on the forts. The Boxer protocol prohibits the isolation of Peking from the sea and it was to compel observance of the protocol that the ultimatum was sent.

Before the channel was blocked, Peking's only outlet had been by rail to Tientsin and thence by boat to the sea. Other rail communications with the tidewater had been interrupted.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

J. A. Porter, city official of Newport Beach, who is in a precarious condition, following a suicide attempt at a Glendale sanitarium, Sunday.

(By United Press)

PORTER TRIES TO KILL SELF; MAY NOT LIVE

Broken in health, J. A. Porter, city marshal, treasurer, tax collector and holder of numerous other city offices in Newport Beach, lies in a critical condition in a Glendale sanitarium, today, as the result of an attempt to end his own life, late Sunday afternoon.

Porter, for 14 years city marshal at Newport Beach, has been falling in health during the last several weeks. Short week-end trips have been made in an effort to restore his departing strength, but Friday he left for the Glendale sanitarium. Sunday, he attempted to end his life by slashing both wrists with a pocket knife.

Friends in Newport Beach this morning declared that they believed Porter to have snapped under the strain of holding so many city offices and in his weakened condition to have suddenly made the attempt on his life.

Mrs. Porter refused to make any statement in regard to her husband this morning. She had been at Glendale with him for several days and return to Newport Beach today.

"I don't want to talk about it," she said and hung up the telephone receiver.

According to a report on file at the Glendale police department, Porter's attempt to take his own life was made on the sanitarium grounds about 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Several small boys passing the garden saw Porter slash both wrists with a pocket knife and fall to the ground. Hospital authorities were notified by the boys and Porter was given immediate medical attention.

Attaches at the hospital this morning refused to give out any information regarding Porter's attempted suicide. They did declare, however, that he was very grave, however, and expressed doubt as to his recovery.

DEMAND QUIZ OF MYSTERY AT BORDER

AUTOPSY TO BE HELD

Mexican Authorities Claim U. S. Citizen's Death Is Due to Acute Alcoholism

(By United Press)

HUNTINGTON PARK, March 16.—Investigation of the death at Tia Juana of Carl F. Reynolds, prominent resident of Huntington Park, was demanded today by local authorities.

Chief of Police Williams, in a telephone conversation with San Diego police, ordered an immediate probe of Reynolds' death, maintaining it was the result of mistreatment at the hands of the Mexican police, following his arrest on an intoxication charge.

Reynolds was formerly of Syracuse, N. Y.

Police at the Mexican border village claim he died from "acute alcoholism," according to advices here.

Scout Alcoholism Story.

"That's unbelievable," said the local police chief. "Reynolds was not that kind of man."

"I want an immediate examination made to determine if he had been beaten up. I consider the facts warrant the most careful investigation."

Chief Williams declared he would appeal to authorities in Washington also.

An autopsy was to be conducted in Tia Juana today.

The chief witness will be Joe Brown, who accompanied Reynolds from here to the border. Brown is held in the Tia Juana cuartel on charges of intoxication, it was understood here.

Four Mexicans, including Zenaido Llanos, former police chief at Tia Juana, are held on charges of assault on Clyde and Audrey Petet, young American girls, who, with their parents, committed suicide after an "orgy of shame" at the border village.

The death of T. M. N. George, wealthy Atlanta, Ga., cotton broker, after his arrest for alleged drunkenness, is still a subject of investigation by American authorities.

U. S. naval authorities also have under investigation the detention in the Tia Juana bastille of Elmo K. Gordon, chief petty officer. He has been held for months, allegedly on trumped-up charges by the Mexican police.

Colonel Coolidge Shows No Change

PLYMOUTH, Vt., March 16.—Col. John C. Coolidge, father of the president, rested comfortably during the night and there is virtually no change in his condition, according to Miss Mae Johnson, his nurse.

Miss Johnson spoke of the invalid's condition as "encouraging," but would not indicate her belief as to whether the recent improvement might be permanent.

Road gangs will be ordered out today to clear the snow-banked highway from White River Junction to Plymouth. Governor Billings ordered this undertaking as a precaution in case President Coolidge is summoned hurriedly to his father's bedside. About five miles of road in the 27-mile journey from White River Junction is impassable.

CASE AGAINST BANK WILL BE SETTLED SOON

That the suit brought in superior court by the city of Newport Beach to recover $12,829.62, alleged to be due from former Treasurer Lew H. Wallace and the First National Bank of Newport Beach, as interest on loans of city funds deposited in the bank, will be settled this week for $728.51, was indicated today by statements emanating from two sources.

That the bank, of which Wallace is president, will pay the $728.51 to the city, and that Wallace, either as an individual or as an official, is in no wise indebted to the city, was declared in an answer filed by Wallace and the bank in court late yesterday.

This prospective settlement of the case was confirmed last night, when Clyde Bishop, city attorney of Newport Beach, announced to the board of trustees that $728.51 could be collected from the bank but that there was no judgment to be recovered against Wallace.

The case, which was instituted by the city several months ago, is expected to come before the court this week.

The answer filed by Wallace and the bank, through the legal firms of Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus, and Head, Rutan and Scoville, denies that the sum due the city as interest on loans of municipal funds in $12,829.62, as claimed by the city, covering the period since April 20, 1903, when Wallace became city treasurer.

The answer denied that large sums of city funds, deposited in the bank, had been loaned and the profit converted by Wallace to his private use. The bank, it was asserted, had received the profit, or interest, on loans of a small portion of the city funds on deposit in the bank. The sum of $810.98 had been computed as the amount so received, it was stated, and this sum was tendered the city and was refused. Later, according to the defendants, it was found that a mistake had been made, the real amount due the city being $728.51. The bank offers to pay this sum, but Wallace, individually, denies owing the city any sum, whatever, and demands that he be awarded the costs of his litigation.

All claims for interest, based on transactions more than two years before the filing of the suit by the city, are barred by the statute of limitations, the defendants further allege in their defense to the action.

Obituary

Albert Gaston McComb, father of Mrs. Theodore M. Sammis, 216 East Washington avenue, was born in Truro, Franklin county, O., Feb. 8, 1843. He was married to Alvira Green in September, 1869, and to them were born three children, two sons and one daughter. Mrs. Sammis is the only surviving member of the family.

Mr. McComb was a member of the Presbyterian church throughout his life and held a number of official positions in the church.

He served his country during the Civil War in Company D, 189th Ohio Infantry.

He was not only a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, but was also a son of a veteran.

Most of his life up to six years ago was spent in Ohio. During the last few years he lived with his daughter in Santa Ana. He died February 20.

The funeral was held February 23 in the parlors of Smith and Tuttle. Dr. W. E. Roberts, pastor of the Presbyterian church, assisted by the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the Christian church, conducted the service.

Robert L. Brown, accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong, sang "Abide With Me" and "Near to the Heart of God."

Interment was in Fairhaven cemetery.

"KERNELS" BY THE COLONEL

The other day there was a fire in Orange—a serious fire. In fact, it was so serious that Orange called to Santa Ana firemen for help.

But Santa Ana's department couldn't go for 25 minutes, because an old law of ours here, makes it necessary for the chief to hold up his hand and get excused before he can go to a fire outside of the city limits.

It took 25 minutes for the local department to find one of the city councilmen in order to get permission to go to the fire. When Santa Ana's men did get there, the blaze had gained such a headway that it could not be extinguished without serious loss. The city of Orange was saved, however.

If rules like that are correct, we suggest the following:

1. For Police Officers—Never leave your beat even if there are 900 murders being committed in the next block.

2. For reporters—Never go after a story, regardless of the size, unless you are sure it does not belong on the county page.

3. For Clerks—Do not wait on customers unless they come to your department, even if you have to send them to a competitor.

4. For Married Men—When wife tells you to mail the two letters she has written, do not be rash—mail only one and keep the other in your pocket for eleven days.

All kidding aside, the motorcoops should have written instructions from Will Marsh, at Sacramento, every time they stop a car on the road.

J. McGoofus McWhistle, custodian of bank corners, hearing that Santa Ana's firemen had to have permission to fight a fire, said he felt that the Santa Ana banks should get permission from the Bankcleaners club to keep all doors to the bank, save one, locked until 10 a. m. every day.

On departing for Los Angeles the champion is quoted as saying "If things can be arranged satisfactorily, I'll be back next week. I can find no better spot for getting into real condition."

Today's booby prize goes to the man who even attempts to beat his boss playing golf, tennis, bowling or pool. It's not good business.

Beginning at this theater today and continuing for three days, is a little propaganda that finds its way to Santa Ana from the Lincoln, Neb., State Journal. Lincoln, the home of would-be presidents and vice presidents has a lot of talk coming, apparently.

The heading is: "CALIFORNIA BOOSTERS." It reads: "The Boosters club of Southern California has asked its friends to write 'back east' telling the truth about that part of the country. One woman wrote as follows: "

"Oh, come to the land of the western sun,
Where every business is overdone;
Where stores charge freight on goods made here,
Ask them the reason, they think you queer.

They serve you climate with all your meals,
It's so blamed hot your back just peels.
The 'Ananias Club' includes the state
From San Diego to the Golden Gate.

The Movie stars marry twice a year,
Would marry again if the war were clear."

TORE UP MONEY.
NEW YORK, March 16.—It is unsafe to tear up good $20 bills. John J. Juke strewed bits of $2000 around and wait arrested for littering Battery Park. He would not explain except to say he had more in the bank which also would be torn up.

BUSINESS MEN COMPLAIN OF TRAFFIC ROUTE

Should traffic through Santa Ana to San Diego be diverted at Seventeenth street, or Fourth street, or Chestnut avenue?

This question confronted the city council last night, following a report by George McPhee, that East Fourth street business men had complained because such traffic was not diverted east over that street.

Discussion of the signs directing motorists over the temporary route by way of Chestnut revealed that the route had been suggested by the secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association.

Street Commissioner Stanley Goode was of the opinion that diversion, at Fourth and Main streets, would result in congestion of traffic at that point.

Present to hear a discussion on the proposed extension of the joint outfall sewer, Col. S. H. Finley, member of the board of supervisors and a property owner on East Fourth street, was asked by Mayor Frank Purinton as to his opinion on the question. Replying, Finley declared that consideration of the comfort of motor travelers to San Diego should dictate a temporary route over a paved street and that if travel was to be diverted around the business district, signs should be posted at the corner of Seventeenth and Main, directing traffic by way of Seventeenth.

Combination of the dirt road over a part of Chestnut avenue, a short piece of pavement on Lyons street and dirt road from Lyons on Main street, Tustin, to the paved route, he said, made the temporary route there very confusing and disconcerting to travelers.

Whether signs should be placed at both Fourth and Seventeenth streets or whether, at Fourth only was left to decision by Goode and City Engineer Neff.

It's good to be so odd that you don't want to get even with others.

Ford Runs 43.8 Miles On Gal. of Gas.

In a public test supervised by city and automobile club officials, a Ford Sedan equipped with Blanche Thermostatic Carburetor Control, ran 43.8 miles on one gallon of gasoline. This inexpensive control is entirely automatic and self-regulating. It makes Ford start instantly, even in zero weather, eliminates carbon formation, prevents dilution of crank case oil, avoids sputtering of motor and cuts repair bills 50%. Installed in two minutes. Cadillac now uses as standard equipment Thermostatic Carburetor Control under Blanche license. The inventor, A. C. Blanche & Co., Dept. 218-C, 605 West Lake St., Chicago, want agents and are willing to send a sample at their own risk. Write today.—Adv.

A WORD OF COMFORT

Mere knowledge will not develop character. Knowledge must be translated into ideals and habits of thought to be effective in character development. Your familiarity with the Bible is like unused capital and your faith in God is merely a pretty theory until you have so defined your allegiance to Him that you face every experience in life with determination to be true to Him.

The way you carry yourself in the face of a great sorrow demonstrates what your character has become. It is easy to talk about being courageous under fire; it takes a man to live it.

McCLANAHAN—March 14, 1926, Mrs. Ruth McClanahan, of 1014 West Sixth street. Funeral services will be held Wednesday, March 17th at 1:30 p. m. from St. Ann's chapel. Interment Fairhaven cemetery. Mrs. McClanahan was the wife of H. A. McClanahan.

Vaudeville Will Feature 40 et 8 Revel In Orange

Four acts of vaudeville, followed by dancing, is the program scheduled at the Woman's club, Orange, tomorrow night, by La Societe Des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, Voltaire No. 627, in honor of their members and members of the various Orange county posts of the American Legion.

Coe's orchestra, of Orange, will furnish the dance music and the vaudeville acts will come from Los Angeles, according to Joe Plank, chef de gare.

E. S. Ingram, national vice president of the 40 and 8, will be an honor guest at the entertainment.

U. S. Immigration Service In Need Of More Officers

Martin Warren, post office clerk, who is secretary of the local civil service board, said today that he has been authorized by the U. S. civil service commission to receive, up to April 17, applications for positions of immigration patrol inspectors along the Mexican border. The examination will be held soon after April 17 at convenient places in the state of Arizona, California, New Mexico and Texas.

Appointees will be required to perform guard duty along the international boundary lines between the United States and Mexico and at other assigned places for the purpose of detecting and preventing the illegal entry of aliens into the United States.

The conditions under which this work is carried on are closely comparable in nature and requirements to the duties of a soldier, under actual field conditions. Applicants should be capable and willing to perform the work incident to what is known as "line riding" in the rough and mountainous country along the Mexican border. In this service, which is essentially a mobile police organization, appointees will be called upon to spend much of their time in the open. Assignments of duty may, at times, involve contact with smugglers and other criminal characters. Full information and application blanks may be obtained from the U. S. civil service commission, Washington, D. C., or from the secretary of the U. S. civil service board, in New Orleans, La., Denver, Colo., or San Francisco, Calif., or from Warren, in the Santa Ana post office.

NEW MEMBERS ARE ADMITTED TO PLANE CLUB

Indicating the interest being taken in aviation in Santa Ana, approximately 20 new members were admitted to the Santa Ana Air club at the meeting held last night. According to Burrill E. Mortland, commodore, a number of other persons are prospective members, and every indication points to the organization becoming one of the liveliest in the city.

W. D. Young, of Glendale, president of the Western Aero league, was a speaker at the meeting last night. Others heard were Frank Mason, commodore of the Brea Air club, and Joseph Skidmore, vice commodore of the Santa Ana club.

A report on the Bingham bill, the purpose of which is to provide federal control over aviation engaged in interstate commerce, was made by Commodore Mortland. A special committee was named to make a further study of the bill for the purpose making a recommendation to the club.

Commodore William Fox, of the Long Beach Air club, extended an informal invitation to the Santa Ana Air club to provide a radio program, to be broadcast over station KFON, Long Beach. The matter will be taken up at the next meeting, which is to be held next Monday night at the Star Motor Sales corporation headquarters.

The following were among those who were admitted to membership last night:

C. F. Burns, William W. Ross, C. L. Young, Frank Bose, George T. Calhoun, A. M. Stanley, Ernest M. Winbiger, V. B. Dewey, Robert Fernandez, Lawrence W. Beeman, Santa Ana; Richard A. Parker, Harmon O. Schwoob, Anaheim.

15-YEAR-OLD BRIDE BACK WITH PARENTS

Beatrice Simpkins Brenning, 15, bride of a week, was home today, with her parents, her romance shattered, and Daniel Brenning, 27, her husband, was sought by the authorities on a charge of perjury.

The couple eloped from Los Angeles to Santa Ana March 8 and were married. At the license bureau, Brenning gave the girl's age as 19. This alleged misrepresentation, under oath, is the basis of the perjury charge, which was sworn to today by the girl's father, Frank Simpkins.

Following the elopement, Simpkins soon discovered that whereabouts of the bride and groom and wasted no time in taking his daughter home. Brenning, it is said, had been married before.

Simpson, George Praglin, B. H. Richardson, Charles E. Hay, H. H. Connor, F. A. Gehring, J. D. Merrill, H. F. Morrill, J. F. Baldwin, A. S. Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Matthews and H. C. Karels, all of Los Angeles.

Mrs. J. C. Waugh wife of a prominent business man of Winnipeg, Canada, is a guest at St. Ann's Inn. In addition to her club activities, Mrs. Waugh has devoted considerable time to painting, specializing in pastels. She is accompanied by Mrs. C. Riley and Mrs. G. Culou, of Winnipeg, who also are registered at the inn. From here the party will go to Laguna Beach, and after spending a few days there, will continue to La Jolla.

Arthur T. Snell, proprietor of Hotel Windense, La Jolla, is among the guests at St. Ann's Inn. Other arrivals include Ole Hanson and Ole Hanson Jr., San Clemente; H. A. Nelson and family, Great Falls, Mont.; F. A. Barnes, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Anderson, San Diego; A. D. Catterlin, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Carroll and daughter, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Miller, Los Angeles; H. C. Wahlberg Jr., Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. George L. Irbine, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Phil D. Jones, Los Angeles; F. H. Cannon, Los Angeles; Alfred T. Burns, Los Angeles; Fred J. Catlin, Los Angeles.

CONSTANT CURLING, WAVING DRIES, LIFE FROM HAIR

Girls just must curl and wave bobbed hair to appear their prettiest. But constant curling and waving burn and dry the luster, vitality and very life from the hair.

To offset these bad effects, just get a 35-cent bottle of delightful refreshing "Danderine" at any drug store or toilet counter and just see for yourself how quickly it revives dry, brittle, lifeless, and fading hair.

"Danderine" is a dependable tonic and will do wonders for any girl's hair. It nourishes, stimulates and strengthens each single hair, bringing back their youthful gleam, glint and vigorous luxuriance. Falling hair stops and dandruff disappears. "Danderine" is pleasant and easy to use.

Bulk of Faacks $25,000 Estate Is Left to Son

The late Mrs. Marie Faacks, of Santa Ana, who died February 20, left the bulk of her $25,000 estate to her son, Herman Faacks, of Santa Ana, with cash legacies to her four other children.

This was made known today, when her will was filed for probate in superior court. The will was made in 1904, with a codicil in 1905.

Legacies of $700 to a daughter, Dora Logan, of San Francisco, $700 to a son, Rudolph, of Los Angeles, $200 to a son, Henry, of Lankershim, and $300 to a son, Oscar, were provided. A 10-acre ranch, on Santa Clara avenue, valued at $25,000, was left to Herman Faacks. This, with $225 in personal property, made up the estate.

S. A. TEACHERS AT SOUTHLAND COLLEGE MEET

What is wrong with the present day colleges?

A frank discussion of the college and its problems will be held at the meeting of faculty representatives of Southern institutions, today in Pasadena. Eight Santa Ana junior college teachers are in attendance at the session.

A. C. Olney, commissioner of secondary education in California, was to speak before the conference.

Questions of the relationship of the junior college and the four-year college was to have been brought up for consideration. Nearly 75 delegates representing every Southern college, attended the meeting.

The general session of the conference was to have opened at 10 o'clock this morning. Separate assemblies of the junior colleges and the state colleges were held early in the afternoon. Round table discussions were to consume the remainder of the day.

Those who attended from here were Principal D. K. Hammond, Dean J. Russell Bruff, Mrs. Eleanor Northcross, Miss May Murphy, Miss Lella Watson, L. L. Beeman, Graham Harris and McKee Fisk.

41 CARLOADS OF MAYTAGS ARRIVE

The biggest single shipment of washing machines ever made in the history of the industry has just been brought into California by the California Maytag distributors, according to a statement made today by A. T. Riley, manager for Schlueter's, the local dealer for Maytag washing machines in the Grand Central market. Riley has just received his portion of the big trainload.

A solid trainload of 41 cars of Maytags made up the order and a big celebration was staged on the arrival of the train in California this week. More than 4200 washing machines made up the purchase, which had a total value in excess of a half million dollars.

California dealers point with particular pride to the accomplishment of making the biggest purchase of washing machines in the world. In the first place, it shows the importance which this state has attained as an industrial and merchandising center, outstripping even the older and more densely populated states of the east, because of the better buying power of its people.

Teeth with that dazzling whiteness you see

This new way brings them quickly. Send the coupon

DENTAL science has found a new way to lighten cloudy teeth. A way that often changes a person's whole appearance.
Your teeth, it's learned, are not naturally off color—simply coated with a film that absorbs discolor-ations from food, smoking, etc.

You can feel that film now with your tongue; a slippery sort of coating. It is there largely because your present dentifrice is failing in its duty. Ordinary den-tifrices don't fight film successfully and brushing won't do it.

Now a new-type dentifrice has been discovered. A film-removing paste called Pepsodent. Famous $100,000 movie stars use it before going on a scene. That's why moviesmiles are so gleaming white.

Leading dentists urge it because it protects the teeth and firms the gums. Film breeds bacteria that invites tooth troubles and pyorrhea.
It is there now imperiling your teeth, your gums; making your smile unattractive.

Clear it off. See the amazing difference made. Get Pepsodent at any drug store. Or send the

SIX FACE CHARGES OF 50-MILE SPEED

Six motorists are scheduled to appear in two Orange county courts this week to face charges of driving their automobiles 50 miles an hour, or in excess thereof, over county roads. Four of the six are scheduled to appear in San Juan Capistrano and two here, in Justice
Kenneth Morrison's court.

The two scheduled to appear here face jail sentences, if they are found guilty, inasmuch as Morris-son is accustomed to dealing out jail terms to persons found guilty of traveling 50 miles per hour.

The two due to appear here are J. W. Grant, 2113 North Forty-first street, Los Angeles, 50 miles an hour; D. E. LaVerne, 241 LaVerne avenue, Long Beach, 50 miles an hour.

Those to appear in San Juan Capistrano are A. M. Shenk, California, 55 miles an hour; F. L. Willetts, Los Angeles, 55 miles an hour;
Joe Barragay, Los Angeles, 55 miles an hour, and Roger Jones, Hollywood, 50 miles an hour.

ORANGE COUNTY BOOSTERS WILL HOLD SESSIONS

The first of a series of inter-city conferences will be held Wednesday,
March 17, at the Newport Harbor
Yacht club, when the board of directors of the chambers of commerce, representing the harbor district, will meet with the officials of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

Matters concerning the welfare of Orange county, particularly the harbor, will be discussed.

According to a prominent chamber of commerce official from northern Orange county, harbor development and the prosperity of Orange county are inseparable.

Closer co-operation between all sections of Orange county is absolutely necessary if the county is to get a proper share of the benefit which comes to Orange county through the various advertising campaigns extending over the nation, it is pointed out.

That Orange county is not getting its share is admitted by those in position to know and these inter-city conferences are expected to develop a more united effort on the part of county men.

Anaheim, Fullerton, Orange and other cities, through their organizations, have advised of their interest in the plan and will unite in arranging similar gatherings in the

Police News

Charged with breaking glass on a public highway, Mickey Sullo, 21, of 224 1-2 East Broadway, Long Beach, was arrested in Seal Beach last night. The youth was brought to the Orange county jail by Officer Snyder.

Salvino Quiroz, 34, of 730 Clara street, Anaheim, is in the Orange county jail, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor. He was arrested there last night by Anaheim police.

F. G. Yoder, state motorcycle officer, who was seriously hurt March 1, when he was thrown from his motorcycle on the state highway, south of El Toro, yesterday was removed to his home on North Main street. His condition is declared satisfactory.

Church Supper to Be Served by Men

The Church Training night program, which has been running so successfully for the last eight weeks in the Methodist church, is taking a precarious position, some persons think when it allows the men of the church to be the hosts at the supper hour, tomorrow night. The men are preparing for 400 persons and it is rumored that the program and menu savor of "Auld Ireland."

Following the supper, classes will be held in religious education, in which Miss Jennie Lasby is giving a lecture course on "International Relations" and Professor Louis T.
Jones in conducting a course on the "Life of Jesus." At 7:45, the classes will assemble to hear Dr. Frank Luce, of Cleveland, O., eminent preacher and lecturer, speak on the subject, "Drooping Hands Trembling Knees and Crooked Paths."
These services are open to the public and all interested are invited to

TREE BURGLAR LATEST ORANGE COUNTY THIEF

Orange county has had its "rug burglar," it's "cat burglar" and it's "bicycle burglar," but today a new variety popped up—one that threatens to give the sheriff's office more trouble than all the rest.
Orange county now has its "fruit tree burglar."

Twenty-two peach trees and two prune trees were stolen from the orchard of T. E. Bulley, Newhope road, near Seventeenth street, according to a report on file in Sheriff Jernigan's office.

The trees, planted less than a month ago, were dug up and hailed away. Apparently the thief did not finish his job, for four other fruit trees were found on the property, dug up and ready for removal.

MAN HURT IN CRASH WITH PARKED AUTO

G. H. Peters, Anaheim Route No.
1, was severely injured yesterday afternoon, when the automobile, which he was driving, crashed into a truck parked on the side of the road, four miles west of Anaheim, according to a report made at the sheriff's office today by Benton G.
Wright.

It was a Wright's Transfer truck which the Peters machine struck, according to the report.
The truck was at the side of the road with a flat tire, when Peters ran into it while dodging another car going in the same direction as the Peters machine.

Peters was said to have suffered several broken ribs. He was taken to a hospital in Anaheim.

Twins Are Extended Pleasant Courtesy In Birthday

BLANDING birth- days as they do. William and Wallace Blanding, twin brothers of this city, also shared a delightful birthday party recently when their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Blanding, 2038 South Main street, entertained at an evening bridge in their honor.

With St. Patrick's day drawing ever nearer, the shamrock motif was stressed in decorative appointments, with much graceful greenery interspersed with lovely spring flowers. Card tables were arranged for bridge, and as the guests played, they enjoyed candy and iced punch.

Mrs. Blanding had provided the appropriate prize of a card table, whose green cover reflected the evening's color motif. It was won by Max Holmes, holder of high score, while an amusing little green candy snake consoled E. G. Holmes Jr. for his poor luck at cards.

Following the bridge session, a buffet supper was enjoyed. The fruit salad and rolls, together with countless other delicacies including green frosted cakes and leas with shamrock garnish, being served from a table charming in green and white posies and Irish emblems.

The twin brothers were extended all manner of happy wishes for future birthdays quite as happy as was their twenty-fourth. Enjoying the event with them and their hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Blanding, were Mr. and Mrs. Max Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Holmes Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Holmes, Mrs. Ira Messer, Mrs. Harry Johnson and Miss Fern Belseler.

County Shrine Club To Give Party

Varied entertainment awaits members of Orange County Shrine club and their wives and sweethearts, next Thursday night, for a theater party which is being planned for the evening, will be followed by dancing at the Masonic temple in Fullerton.

The evening's gaiety will start promptly at 7 o'clock when the program at Chapman's Alhambra theater in the neighboring city, will open to the wearers of the red fez and their feminine partners. The program will feature an excellent picture with five acts of vaudeville, and upon its conclusion, the merry-makers will need only walk across the street to enjoy the remainder of the carefully planned entertainment.

Both dancing and cards will be provided at the temple, with attractive prizes for winners in the card contest. Shriners planning to go may obtain tickets for the double event, for a very nominal sum, according to the county club president, Joseph P. Smith.

Household Economics

Mrs. Clyde A. Bach, Mrs. Eugene McBurney and Mrs. Neal Beisel formed the hostess group presenting a delightful luncheon and afternoon session for the fourth household economics section of Ebbl society, late last week in the section rooms and lounge of the clubhouse. Two long tables were arranged in a section room, one centered with a green flag and Irish jaunty car, drawn by a wee donkey and with a pretty colleen. White flowers and greenery were used and place cards and nut cups carried the true Irish green. Favors at each place were a bit of real shamrock.

In the afternoon session following the delicious luncheon, Mrs. Charles Mitchell presided as leader and welcomed Mrs. O. H. Umberhan as a new member. Guests greeted were Mrs. R. Shearme, introduced by Mrs. S. Padias; Mrs. John Knox, by Mrs. J. S. Hales and Mrs. Charles Stewart by Mrs. Norbert Lentz.

Reports of the party for husbands in late February, were so complimentary that it was decided to repeat the affair some time in May. The date served the Lumberman's association in early March was a money-making enterprise and with other financial ventures, raised the section's funds to $120.

Mrs. J. W. Taylor, Mrs. Cyrus Lurker and Mrs. W. V. Whitson were named as a committee to arrange next year's program. With such business matters disposed of, the section applied itself to consideration of plans for a public bridge luncheon at the clubhouse, Tuesday, April 6.

A Chinese luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock, and tickets may be procured from any member or from Mrs. Charles Mitchell, leader. The affair promises to be one of the prettiest and most unique in Ebbl club history. Mrs. Norbert Lentz will have charge of tickets; Mrs. Hales heads the card tables and covers committees; Mrs. George Richardson, decorating; Mrs. W. V. Whitson, favors.

With the party plans completed, the entertainment interval opened with roll call featuring Irish anecdotes and an instructive and enjoyable paper on Interior Decorating by Mrs. Mitchell.

Those present were Mesdames R. E. Coulter, E. U. Dickinson, J. S. Hales, S. Padias, G. H. Goodwin, J. W. Taylor, Roy Langley, George Richardson, Dr. Estelle Workman, N. E. Lentz, E. C. Erwin, James Farpley, Charles Johnson, S. I. Preble, Charles Mitchell, Emery Peacock, Cyrus Lurker and Miss Mary Thompson.

Typically Chinese Is Uniquely Planned Dinner Party

FRIENDS of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Parker of 511 South Van Ness avenue, had the unique experience of being entertained recently at a typically Chinese dinner, given by the young people in accordance with careful instructions from Mrs. Parker's brother, Loren J. Mead of Wu, China.

Mr. Mead sent many of the ingredients for various dishes as well as some 72 Chinese bowls for their proper serving. While the hostess was preparing the dinner, according to explicit directions, she kept her house closed, so the mingled odors added her in extending oriental welcome to her arriving guests. The latter had a surprise of their own, and appeared in correct Chinese attire but agreed that the surprises offered by Mr. and Mrs. Parker, exceeded theirs in point of interest.

Upon arrival of the guests, they were presented with steaming hot towels, and given opportunity for cleansing hands and faces. A preliminary course of roasted watermelon seeds and tea was served at small tables, ere all gathered about one large table for the main dinner. This featured, salted and sugared nuts, smoked mackerel, watermelon seeds and other tidbits, including that national delicacy, sliced old eggs, some of them perhaps 100 years old.

All manner of quaint Oriental customs were introduced, some of them being most amazing to occidental diners. After bowls of rice were passed, the dinner menu consisted with chicken and noodles, spinach with hard-boiled eggs, cauliflower, sea slugs with mandarin sauce, salad pickles and sliced pineapple, scrambled eggs and bacon with mandarin sauce, and the piece de resistance, a large fish served with head, tails and fins intact. Dessert was a rice pudding passed with the aid of dark molasses which served as a sauce.

The return of the steaming towels, was welcomed, and prepared the guests for an evening of less oriental amusement, bridge played to the accompaniment of Chinese wine, tea and rice cakes.

Local Women Attend Anaheim Meeting

The Orange County Division of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women held an interesting meeting recently in St. Boniface hall, Anaheim, with a goodly representation of women from the various parishes of the county. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. F. J. Snyder, the county president, the guest of honor being Miss Mary Workman of Los Angeles, president of the Diocesan Council. The Rev. Father, Anaheim, and Mrs. Snyder gave brief addresses of welcome.

Miss Workman in her address, explained the work of the National Catholic Welfare Conference. Mrs. Birney Donnell of Los Angeles spoke on co-operation with Parent-Teacher association. Mrs. Reynolds stressed the work of parish chairmen; Mrs. Wood's subject was parish P-T-A. work and Mrs. Olive Lopez, district chairman of Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, related the accomplishments of the Santa Ana center.

The next quarterly meeting will be held Monday, March 22, in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium in Long Beach, commencing at 9:30 a. m. Reservations for luncheon may be made by calling up the Y. W. C. A.

Preceding the latest meeting Mrs. A. W. Rothaemel of Fullerton entertained at luncheon in honor of Miss Workman at her home at 303 West Commonwealth avenue, here decorations being spring flowers.

Santa Ana women present were Mrs. Charles Borchard, Mrs. George Ravenkamp and Mrs. Olive Lopez, joined in the afternoon by Mrs. G. W. Young, Miss Barbara Klatt and Miss Armella Klatt.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks, president of the Woman's Missionary society of the Santa Ana Valley Baptist association, held a meeting yesterday of the members of her executive board at her home, 401 West Eighth street.

Prominent Baptist women were present from Whittier, Downey, Anaheim, Garden Grove and Santa Ana, and plans were made for the coming all-day annual meeting to be held in Downey, May 7. Last year 200 women, representing the twelve churches of the district, attended.

After business had been attended to, Mrs. Fairbanks served dainty refreshments to her guests and a social hour was enjoyed.

And . . . eyes are too precious and scarce to experiment on.

Happy Afternoon for Small Birthday Maid

Little Miss Constance Barnett spent her eighth birthday very happily on Saturday last with a company of eight of her school friends, at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Yoch, 111 East Eleventh street, where she and her brothers are staying while their mother, Mrs. Caroline Y. Barnett is regaining her health in Phoenix, Ariz. Lively games were played and N. E. West of Laguna Beach, the young honoree's uncle, showed the Harold Lloyd film, "Why Worry?" on the family moving picture machine to the delight of the group. Miss Constance was showered with pretty gifts, the best of all being from her mother, who remembered the day with a loving message. Refreshments dear to childhood were served on the prettily decorated table, centered with a cluster of fragrant pink stocks, with a lovely cake.

Those present were Mrs. Joseph Yoch, Miss Josephine Yoch, N. E. West, Miss Hayes and the group of youngsters, Constance Barnett, Noel West, Bonnie Hamilton, Jeanette Klatt, Elizabeth Borchard, Helen Markel, Theresa Le Gaye, Dorine Houpt and Helen Mercado.

Young Friends Plan Farewell Surprise

Last Saturday evening, a group of young friends of Miss Alberta Crane, surprised her at her home, 723 Oak street, as a farewell party ere she should leave for Wichita, Kansas, a departure which all her friends regret.

Cards formed the evening's entertainment, and at the conclusion of the playing an added surprise was furnished by the presentation to Miss Alberta, of a shower of dainty hankerschiefs accompanied by friendly little notes to be read on her journey. Appetizing refreshments concluded the friendly evening.

Gathered to bid farewell to the honoree, were the Misses Ruth Allender, Glee Hamilton, Lola Baer, Helen Drake, Esther Bailey, Gladys Cope, Ruth Bradley, Phyllis Jean Richards, Mrs. Elwayne Wilcox, Mrs. E. C. Richards and Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Crane.

Pretty Party Given By Hosts Who Will Soon Go North

MOST attractive was the party given recently by Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Hare, 424 West Pine street, the affair having been planned by Mrs. Hare (Florence Cochems) as a farewell courtesy to her husband ere his departure for Seattle where she will join him later.

The guests found 500 planned as the diversion of the evening, and the contest resulted in victory for Mrs. E. Eggleton and Clarence Fairchild, who received attractive prizes while Miss Jean Matthews and Oscar Cochems were each consoled with a gift for holding low score. At the close of the card games, Mrs. Hare served an appetizing little supper on the small tables, charmingly arranged for the feature.

Mr. Hare will be employed with the telephone company in Seattle and as soon as he is located, Mrs. Hare will join him. A number of friends and relatives were entertained at the farewell party, among them having been Mr. and Mrs. E. Eggleton, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Eggleton, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Fairchild, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Wasson, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Cochems, Miss V. Eggleton, Miss Jean Matthews, Miss Daisy Stedman and Messrs. Clarence Fairchild, Oral Sands, James Jamison, Billy Cox and Edwin Cochems.

Lively Group Enjoys Beach Party at Jingle Inn

DAY on the beach was the happy fashion in which the thirtieth birthday of young Elmer Clem was celebrated Sunday when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Clem, of West Third street, opened "Jingle Inn," their cottage at Balboa, and entertained comfortably to their son.

Noonday was marked by a delectable birthday feast which ended with the dessert course featuring a big angel-food cake with thirteen pink candles. In the afternoon the merry-makers enjoyed the usual beach games and frolics to which many added swimming, finding the water delightfully warm.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem entertained members of their family, together with close friends and a group of school pals of their young son, the guest list including Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Haskell and their children, Grace, George, Clifford, Marguerite and Norman; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schultz of Torrance and their children, Charles Jr. and Phyllis-Jean; Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Lassiter, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Clem and children, Louis and Drusilla May and Masters Max Elliott, Max Hiney and Ray Price.

Piano Pupils Are Entertained

As winners in an interesting contest, several junior piano pupils of Fredda Moesser Barger, were entertained at a party given Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock at their teacher's home.

Part of the afternoon was given over to a recital, each child playing a piano number from memory. The remainder of the time was devoted to games and entertainment to which Laura Nissen, a clever little dancer, contributed an exhibition Charleston.

Ere the party drew to a close, refreshments were served the young guests who included Jean Ruoff, Mildred Rohrs, Laura Nissen, Carolyn Billingsley, Ethel Hughes, Margaret Jameson, Muriel Bray, Lola Lambert, Ralph Lambert, Armand Faccou and one guest, Elmer Clem.

What Happened to Your Watch Today?

WHY, NOTHING at all, you will say. You didn't drop or jar it, and it kept as good time as ever.

Yet, something has happened to it. Every twenty-four hours the oil in your watch evaporates just a little more, becomes a bit more gummy; tiny particles of dirt sift into the delicate mechanism, even through the most tightly fitting case, and eventually the timekeeping performance of the watch is impaired.

Be fair to your watch. Have it cleaned, oiled and adjusted at least once a year and avoid heavier repairs later. Experts in our Service Department will do this for you at moderate cost.

WHAT COUNCIL DID

BOARD DENIES 4-FOOT STREET WIDENING WORK

Widening of Main street, south from First street to Edinger street, or to the city limits further south, by 10 feet instead of four, is expected to result from denial by the city council, last night, of a petition of property owners for widening the street by two feet on each side and for installation of an ornamental lighting system, duplicating the standards used in the new system on North Broadway.

The petition called for widening to the city limits, which means, in the present situation, Delhi road on the west side of the street and Edinger street on the east side of South Main street. The signers represented 25.8 per cent of the frontage. A protest against the improvement was signed by owners having 32½ per cent of the frontage between First and Edinger streets.

Dr. Roy C. Horton advised the board that a large proportion of the signers to the petition now favored the wider avenue and asserted that the most of those who had signed for the four-foot widening—two feet on each side of the street—had done so merely to get some kind of action started that finally would result in broadening the thoroughfare. It was pointed out by Mayor Purinton that it probably would be necessary to condemn a five-foot strip on each side to provide more sidewalk space if the street were to be widened by 10 feet. Robert E. Brown and H. Madelener, property owners on the street, supported Horton in his advocacy of the 10-foot widening plan. Petitions for the latter now will be circulated on the street, it was intimated.

Petition Referred Back
A petition by residents, asking for a five-inch asphalt concrete pavement on Pine street, from Cedar to Main, was referred back to the petitioners with the request that the thickness be increased to six inches.

The city engineer was directed to draw plans and specifications for paving Pomona and Berkeley streets, from Main to Maple, and Orange avenue, from Pomona to the city limits.

Proposed paving of 46 blocks in the southwest district, embracing portions of a number of streets, received the attention of 10 contracting firms. It was revealed when bids for the work were opened last night. The improvement will be five-inch Portland cement concrete pavements and the bids, per square foot, ranged from .1789 cents to .152 cents, the latter quotation being submitted by Wells and Bressler. The contract includes curbing, sidewalks and installation of sewer laterals and Wells and Bressler were awarded the contract on their total bid of $81,337.73.

Auto Police Patrol
That City Marshal Claude Rogers and Police Commissioner George McPhee have concluded to institute an automobile police patrol of residential districts was revealed with the appointment to the police force, of F. M. Dean and Louis E. Peterson.

Alleys in the business district of Santa Ana were spick and span on the day of recent inspection by Councilman Goode, Fire Chief Luxembourg, City Engineer Neff and a representative of the health department, it was announced by Goode, chairman of the committee appointed to make the inspection.

Following assertion by Plumbing Inspector Crowe that the present method of installing water-softener plants here were a health menace, the inspector was directed to prepare an amendment to the plumbing ordinance, providing for installation that would eliminate the danger.

W. O. Packard, electrical inspector, was authorized to attend the convention of electricians, to be held soon, in San Diego.

To Make Test Of Old Sewer Line

Final tests will be made this week of the old main sewer line, running from Spurgeon street to Ross street, to determine whether all old connections have been discontinued, it was announced by Plumbing Inspector Crowe, at last night's council meeting.

Crowe said that he was certain that all Fourth street property had been connected with the new sewer on Fourth but was of the opinion that it was possible that some connections had been made with the old sewer by property owners on Fifth street. If the old line is found to be clear of all connections, it will be plugged and sealed. The city holds deeds to the right-of-way property and abandonment proceedings probably will be necessary to clear titles for the property owners.

SET DATE FOR SEWER, PARKS, BAND ELECTION

The city council, in an informal session, yesterday afternoon, on city matters, tentatively set April 27 as the date for an election for submission to the residents of the city, proposals of bond issues for paving Santa Ana's share of the proposed extension of the joint outfall sewer further into the ocean and for parks and playgrounds and for a tax levy to support the Santa Ana municipal band.

The date was named primarily for the sewer extension bonds, it being the purpose of the council to have the issue decided at the earliest date possible.

At the conference, Mayor Frank Purinton assured J. J. Cranston and others present that the parks and playgrounds proposal would be included in the call for the election and, at the evening session of the body, he gave assurance that the tax levy for the band also would be submitted.

Cranston, Mrs. Pay R. Spangler, president of the city Parent-Teacher federation; W. S. Kellogg, principal of Frances Willard junior high school; L. W. Archer, physical instructor in the Frances Willard school, and Mrs. E. E. Boettling, president of Roosevelt P. T. A., were before the board in behalf of an appropriation for support of summer playgrounds, to be conducted at six schools in the city during the summer vacation.

To Maintain Playgrounds.
In presenting the plan, the representatives revealed that it is proposed to maintain supervised playgrounds at the two junior high schools, with men in charge, and at the Roosevelt, Lincoln, Franklin and Lowell grammar schools, the grammar school grounds to be supervised by women.

It was estimated the cost would be $1800 and the committee asked that the council contribute something to the fund. Mrs. Spangler said that the Parent-Teacher association would have, by the close of the school term, approximately $350 to contribute to the expense of the playgrounds. It was asserted by Kellogg that playgrounds, maintained at two schools last summer, had been very effective in good results, the latter being reflected in the better interests, which boys, attending the playgrounds, evidenced in their studies when the fall term opened.

"The boy who is left to run the streets during the vacation is the boy who is more apt to become a delinquent," Archer declared, in discussing the value of supervised playgrounds.

The representatives were not definite as to how the fund of $1800 might be raised, but suggestions were made that possibly the council and the board of education could finance the program. Purinton was given authority to name a committee from the council to confer with the board of education for discussion of the suggested plan of financing.

Sewer Report Reviewed.
At the council meeting, last night, Chester A. Smith, of the engineering firm of Burns, McDonnell and Smith, reviewed briefly the report submitted to the joint sewer boards at a meeting, here, Friday night, of last week, important parts of which were printed Saturday, in The Register. In his comments, last night, Smith said that he believed the proposed extension of the outlet line 2800 feet further into the ocean and installation of a booster pump, for use at certain periods in each day, would eliminate all possible objection to the dumping of sewage into the ocean until the sewage flow reaches the capacity of the present line. This, he said, might be reached in 10 years, or it might be reached in 20 years, according to the rapidity of population growth in the districts served.

Five Quality For Culver City Race

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—Thirteen automobile race drivers entered in the 250 mile speed classic at the Culver City speedway Sunday turned out today to join the select five who have qualified for the race with a speed of 130 miles an hour or better.

The quintet made its mark Monday afternoon. The drivers and their times are Fred Comer, 138.8 miles an hour; Leon Duray, 128.8 miles an hour; Benny Hill, 137.2 miles an hour; Peter De Paolo, 125.5 miles an hour; and Earl Devore, 133.9 miles an hour.

Economy is excellent, but not when applied to truth.

WATER SERVICE OUTSIDE CITY PUZZLES BOARD

The city council had before it, today, for decision, the question of whether it should sink at violations of a law prohibiting a municipality serving water to consumers outside the city or whether it should discontinue water being served to such consumers.

Discussions on the application of A. W. Fuller, corner of Lyons and McFadden streets, for permission to serve a new residence, which he is building on McFadden street, just over the city line, from a tap he has on his own residence property, which is within the city, brought to light the fact that three or four residents on the county side of Lyons street are getting city water from taps of consumers within the city, or from taps just outside, permission for the latter taps have been given prior to passage, in 1917, by the state legislature, of a law prohibiting municipalities from delivering city water outside of corporation limits.

It was revealed that tap owners had given neighbors permission to connect with the city water line without the knowledge of the city water department. The water used by the neighbors is measured through meters and is paid for by the tap owners.

City Attorney Z. B. West was absent from the informal conference of the board last night. At the time the water situation was discussed, and possible action by the council was deferred until West could present the legal situation. It was pointed out that it was possible that the city could not stop serving water to taps installed prior to 1917, as the law makes it obligatory upon the city to continue the service.

A TRAINLOAD of Maytag Washers for CALIFORNIA

A Solid Trainload Purchase
41 Carloads of Maytag Washers

$650,000 worth of Maytags, the biggest number of washers of one model and one make ever bought and paid for by one concern in the history of the industry. These 41 carloads have just been brought into California by California distributor. One of the Maytags in this trainload is for you—to lighten your household burdens—to wash for you cleaner and faster, more easily, more thoroughly and with less wear and tear.

Wash in One-Half the Time

The Maytag gyrofoam principle has set an entirely new standard of time and cleanliness in washing whole tubfuls in three to seven minutes; anything and everything in ten minutes; a whole washing, fifty pounds of clothes (dry weight) in one short hour. Constant soapier water action in every inch of the tub, all of the time washes out thoroughly the ground-in dirt of work clothes or play clothes.

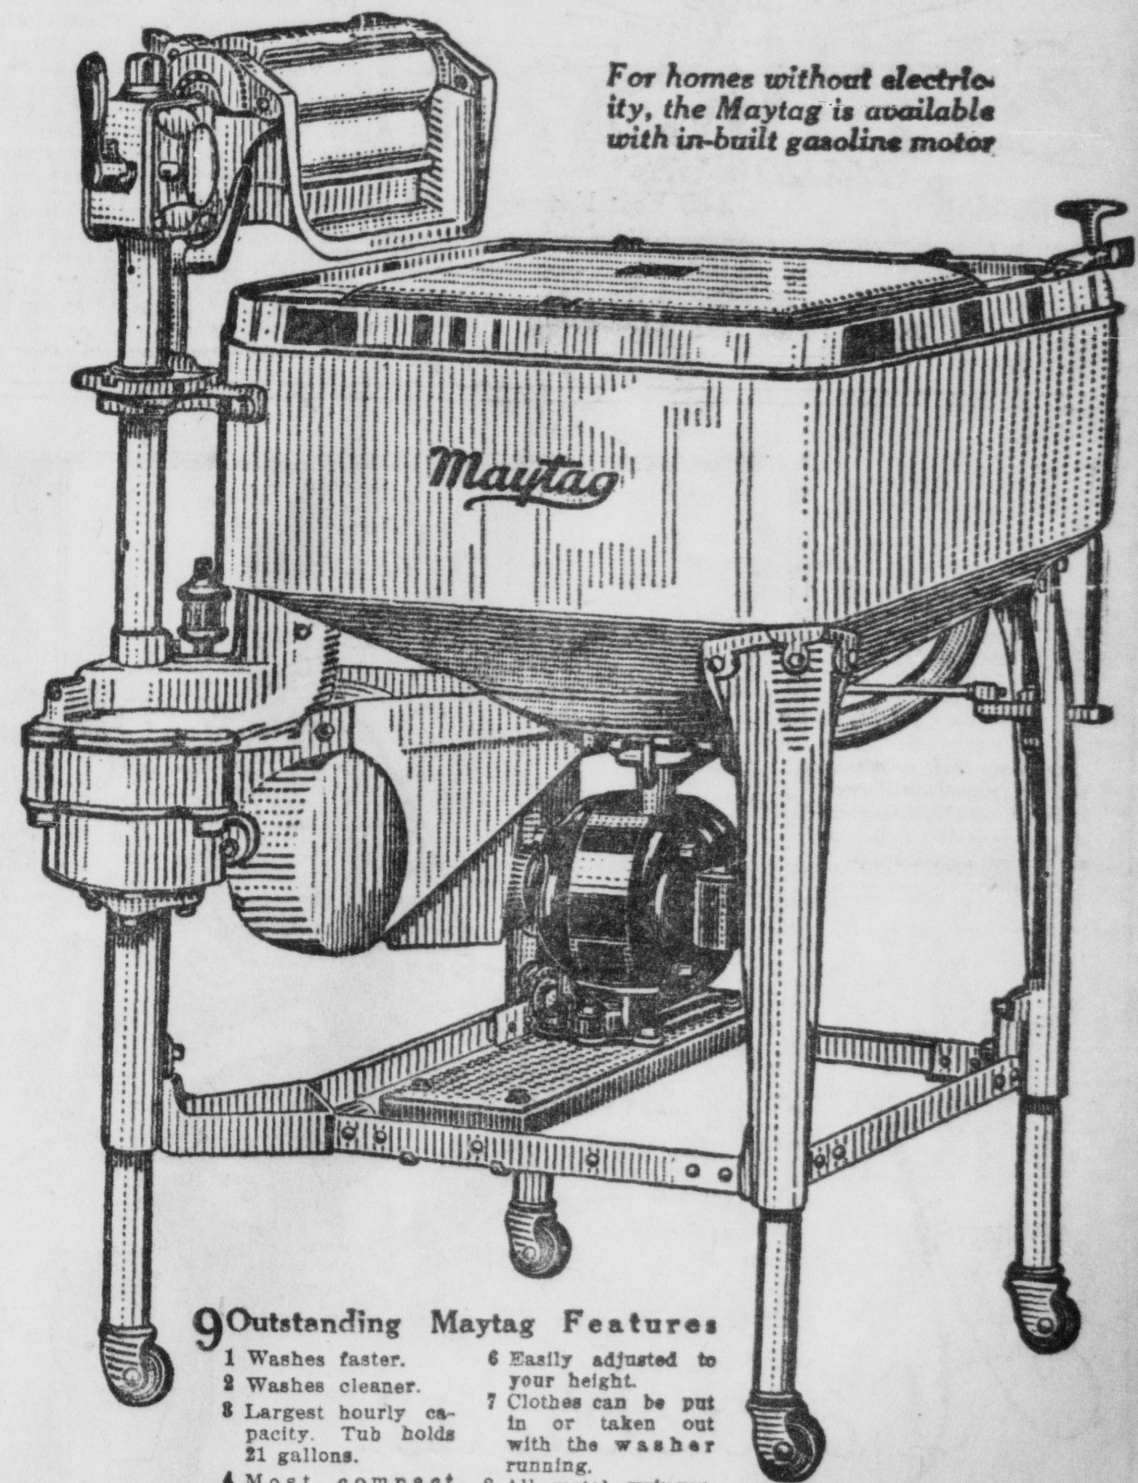

Wash Collar and Cuff Bands Without Rubbing

No need with the Maytag to finish your washing on the back-breaking scrub board. All clothes come out thoroughly clean—neck-bands, collar bands, cuff-bands all as snowy white as you could desire.

A Gentleness Unmatched by Human Hands

The cast aluminum tub has no corners, seams, corrugations or crevices to harm sheer silks, fine fabrics or delicate georgettes. While the gyrotator principle creates, with ordinary laundry soap, a super cleansing washing solution which is forced naturally through the meshes of the clothes without scrubbing, rubbing, dragging or pounding.

Actual photograph of arrival of trainload of Maytag Washers at California terminal, March 8, 1926.

For homes without electricity, the Maytag is available with in-built gasoline motor.

Prove for Yourself Without Cost—Phone the Nearest Maytag Dealer

Tell him you want to have a free demonstration in your own home and on your own clothes. Do a week's washing at our expense and without obligation. The Maytag demonstrator is trained to show you how the machine works—to prove what it will do for you that no other washer will do—not to sell. If the machine doesn't sell itself, don't keep it.

Buy your Maytag from the authorized dealers listed below—the only dealers who can give you genuine service with Genuine parts backed up by the factory. Be sure it bears the name Maytag.

SCHOOL NEWS

Julia Lathrop

Several of the business training classes were fortunate in being able to take a trip through the telephone plant on Wednesday of the past week. The classes assembled in front of the building and marched in to sign their names in the register. A supervisor instructed the students as to the method of the board on which the numbers are plugged. The third floor of the building proved especially interesting because of the wire strung there to receive and send out the calls. In the basement of the building are to be found the batteries, cables and other devices used in this wonderful system. The trip was thoroughly instructive and enjoyable and the schools appreciate the courtesy of the telephone company in permitting the excursion.

A well planned assembly formed a part of Lathrop's activities during the past week. The program was in charge of Miss Dorothy Corrothers and Mrs. Ethel Sink's home classes. Following the awarding of certificates for efficiency and speed in the typewriting contest by Mr. Nelson, a play was presented by three high school students under the direction of Mr. Phillips. True to precedent, this play, by Stewart White, called "The Very Naked Boy," was most excellently rendered and was greatly appreciated by the Lathrop audience.

In recognition of the recent birthday of Luther Burbank, two compositions on the life of this man were read by members of the two classes, whose work received the highest credit.

Several musical numbers and a dance followed the reading. The program ended with two readings by Carson Smith, who impersonated the English pop.

To Present Play
Miss Edith Cornell's drama club is working on a one-act play called "Six Who Pass While Lentils Boil," by Stewart Walker. Knowing what splendid things Miss Cornell is capable of presenting along dramatic and musical lines, Lathrop is eagerly looking forward to this production.

Boys' Athletics
Boys' athletics, under Coach L. C. Bryan's direction, are progressing splendidly at Lathrop. The last week was devoted to corrective measure for defective foot and posture. Mr. Bryan, as a member of the American Posture league, has been devoting a part of each physical education period to development of the body from the waist. An effort is made to attain the standard or average chest expansion during these tests.

which tend to render muscular growth. An ideal athlete cultivates good efforts and constant trials. Development is more important than victory in this case and very often brings victory over a person of less natural ability and physical growth.

Tea Is Given

A most delightful tea was served by a group of seventh grade girls to the Misses Hazel Thresher, Ruth Gordon, Winifred Chalmers, Eunice Adams, Mrs. Gertrude Curtis and Adams, Mrs. Ina M. Webber. Sandwiches, cookies, gingerbread and hot chocolate were served to the guests.

Class Room Activities
Class room activities are taking a most interesting form this semester. Miss Dorothy Corrothers' eighth grade are classes have just completed a set of twenty-eight Sanitarium luncheon dollies for use in the cooking department. The dollies have been hand painted in oils and make an attractive set as could be bought anywhere.

Miss Mabel G. Wing's 6-W class in social studies has been making a study of the history and geography of California. There is such a wide and interesting field of study along this line that the class would like to spend a long period of time on their own state. The visual education department has been contributing to forum meetings of the social studies classes. Pictures of the United States as a whole, of Washington, D. C., and of various places of interest were shown and commented upon by those teachers in charge.

Miss Blythe's classes in English literature have worked out some interesting projects in connection with the study of Shakespeare's "As You Like It." The 4-C class held a spirited debate during the reading of Julius Caesar. The question was, "That Brutus was a Better Patriot Than Anthony." The class was divided into affirmative and negative sides and judges were appointed to give a decision at

Costume Club Meets
A meeting of the I. C. club was held Friday, March 5. The time of the meetings has been changed from twice a month to once a week, as members will need to meet more often, to mount pictures of the different countries for All Nations day.

A number of pictures have been turned in, but more can be used. If anyone has pictures of the costumes of the different countries please bring them to Miss Vanche E. Plumb or Will S. Kellogg.

New Bulletin Board

A new bulletin board has just been completed by Charles Weber and Russell Rohrs. It required nearly 30 feet of beaver board and is right between Miss Ruth Mueller's room and R. J. Raitt's room. It will be used for the costume pictures which are being gathered by the International Costume club for All Nations day. It will not be used for notices, but will be used for pictures.

Frances E. Willard

Willard Welfare Club
Last Wednesday, March 10, 1926, the Willard Welfare club met at luncheon.

Plans were discussed for the picnic to Orange County park. It was decided to go on Tuesday. The transportation committee reported and several new committees were appointed. On the refreshment committee are Adair, Ruth Ellis, Peggy Bronson, Helen Stauffer and Miss Esther Jean Davis. On the program committee are Helen Hendricks, Ethel Ellis and Esther Jacobson. On the service committee are Allen Lair, chairman; Fritz Stroh, Helen Stauffer, Maxine Smith and Miss Dorothy Smith.

As there were two vacancies, one in the eighth grade, and one in the ninth grade, Virginia Golden for the eighth grade and Calla Pospisil for the ninth grade were voted into the club. Esther Jacobson, secretary, was asked to invite them to be members of the club.

Miss Esther Boose and Mrs. W. S. Kellogg were guests.

New Books in Library

The following books have been added to the shelves of the Lathrop branch library: "The White Monkey," John Galsworthy; "Romance," the Lovellist Thing, D. Black; "Mr. and Mrs. Sen," L. J. Milne; "Presenting Jane McRae," M. L. Luther; "None So Blind," A. P. Fitch; "Medicine Buffalo," E. R. Gregor; "Circular Staircase," M. R. Rinehart; "Secret of Boney House," O. Adams; "Skippy," Grace Johnson; "Rusty," Grace Richmond; "Man in the Brown Suit," A. Christie.

John Muir

P-T. A. Carnival

The John Muir P-T. A. will hold a carnival the evening of March 19, with fun and frolic and good things to eat. It will begin at 6 o'clock so everybody is invited to come for dinner or supper and "give mother a rest." Also be sure to bring mother along and show her a good time at the carnival. Some of the booths will offer hot dog and hamburger, coffee, sandwiches, salad, cake, ice cream, candy, pink lemonade. For amusement will be the white elephant, rogues gallery, fortune telling with a genuine fortune teller, and others. A vaudeville show program will feature the kindergarten band, Lloyd Roach, vocal solo; First grade, "Tom Thumb's Wedding"; Polly Hoot, vocal quartet; vocal numbers, Second grade, flag drill; June Alkin, dance; Third grade, "The Butterfly (playlet); Fourth and Sixth grades, songs; Fifth grade, stunts; a one-act play, "Getting Acquainted," by three teachers, Miss Bryant, Miss Kennedy and Miss Mueller and the Richmond avenue Sunday school orchestra.

With such a program of entertainment everybody should have an enjoyable time. So a large crowd is expected.

Mrs. Edith W. Thatcher's fourth period vocation class visited the First National bank Wednesday.

The class first went to the circulation room, where they have a large fan, heater, and a large pipe where all the air goes through the whole building. Next it went to the vault and Mr. Chaney explained many interesting things to the children. Members of the class went to the private lodges. These were small lodges and large ones for the family. When one goes in and shuts the door the light will go on automatically. No one can open the door except with a key, but it can be opened from the inside. Next, the class went on the elevator to the sixth floor and went up on the roof and looked over Santa Ana. Members were divided into two groups and a girl took the first group and Mr. Chaney took the other group. Such a children didn't want to come back to school. The class is going to the bank Friday to complete its visit.

Falling Hair, Dandruff Warn of "Alopecia Pityrodes"

Which Brings Baldness in Two to Seven Years

Analysis of Records of Microscopic Examinations Made by Nationally Known Hair Specialist Show "Alopecia Pityrodes" Cause of 85% of Baldness.

New Formula to Stop Disease, Restore Scalp to Healthy Condition and Grow New Hair, Originated by Prof. John H. Austin, Proved Remarkably Effective in 1933 Test Cases.

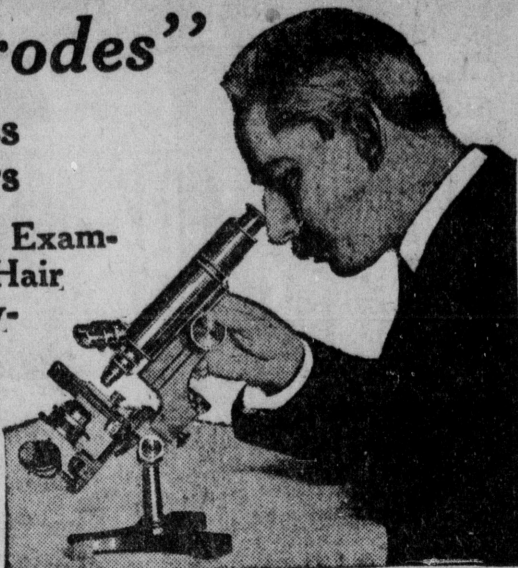

SCIENTIFIC research by Prof. John H. Austin, nationally known hair specialist, has disclosed the cause of 85% of baldness, and 1933 test cases have proved the effectiveness of a new formula. New, warned in time by falling hair, oily hair, dandruff and itching scalp you can arrest the progress of the disease, restore the scalp to normal healthy condition, grow new hair and prevent baldness with this remarkable new formula.

Microscopic Examinations Reveal Truth

These discoveries of Prof. Austin are the outcome of over 40 years' active practice as a hair and scalp specialist. For the past three years, he has kept accurate records of each case coming under his personal observation; records showing the scalp disorder indicated by microscopic examination, the treatment recommended and results obtained. A recent analysis of these records revealed two important scientific discoveries; the cause of practically all scalp trouble and the remedy to remove the cause.

The Signs of "Alopecia Pityrodes." How to Tell if You Have It.

The common cause of scalp trouble is "Alopecia Pityrodes," a serious trouble often mistaken for dandruff, which occurs in two forms: the first starts with a slight scaling of the scalp, producing dry, flaky scales like dandruff making the hair dry and brittle; the second causes the hair to be oily and stringy, with thick grayish white, greasy scales on the scalp. Sometimes a terrible itching is also noticed. Both forms cause falling of the hair, which gradually increases as the bacteria multiply, until baldness results in from two to seven years.

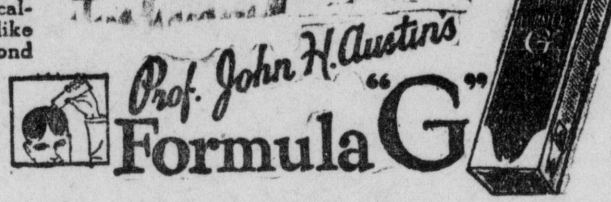

One Formula Brings Amazing Results
Of nine tested formulas originated by Prof. Austin, one special remedy known as "Formula G" produced remarkably beneficial results in practically every case, stopped the progress of the disease, restored the scalp to normal healthy condition and promoted a growth of new hair.

This remarkable formula combines the only ingredients known to Science as actually effective in the treatment of "Alopecia Pityrodes," in the only form in which they can be maintained in their full strength. "Formula G" is therefore a pleasant cream which is packed in special applicator tubes to make treatment easy, quick and convenient.

Prevent Approaching Baldness—Grow New Hair Now

"Formula G" penetrates to the very roots of the hair, and there attacks and destroys the destructive bacteria. It cleanses the scalp and stops itching immediately. It stops falling hair, and by stimulating, reviving and nourishing the hair roots promotes a luxuriant growth of rich, lustrous hair. Get "Formula G" today. Start this treatment which Prof. Austin actually proved effective in his private practice in hundreds of the most stubborn cases of hair and scalp troubles. At all druggists.

STUDENTS ARE BEING TAUGHT LONG LOST ART OF EARLY DAYS

COLORFUL CREATIONS ARE MADE ON LOOMS

Advantages of Course to Those Studying Work Is Pointed Out by Teacher

It is usual to speak of a school as a "factory," thinking of the student graduates as the "products" turned out by the educational machinery.

That a school also may be a factory, turning out other products than graduates, will be revealed by a visit through the creative departments of almost any modern high school.

Among the physical products turned out by various departments of the Anaheim union high school are the motors and other articles of machinery, constructed in the machine shop of the school; the blue prints, of originally designed plans, produced by students in the architectural and mechanical drawing classes; the stage costumes, posters and other products of the art classes; the wearing apparel, made by the domestic science classes, and the books and posters, turned out by the school's printing presses, to say nothing of the creative work of literary inclined students in the English and literature classes.

Thus the school is seen as a veritable factory, with the student "apprentices" gaining valuable experience and training in almost every industrial line found today in the world of commerce.

Perhaps the most unusual products turned out by student craftsmen of the Anaheim union high school are those from the clever hands of the students in the arts and crafts department of the school.

Many Articles Made

In this department, which has had a place on the school curriculum for the last four years, such articles as rugs, dresses, coats, sport costumes, scarfs, interior decorations for the home, leather purses and innumerable other cloth and leather products are manufactured.

Weaving claims the attention of most of the students in the arts and crafts classes and the 18 looms in use in the department are kept busy, turning out colorful creations that express both the originality of the pupils making them and the latest dictum of fashion.

Instruction in this unique class is under the supervision of Mrs. Helen G. Lane, who introduced the course into the school four years ago, when such a course was a rarity among Southern California schools and was looked upon as an experiment. At that time, one other school in the county, the Santa Ana high school, had a few looms and already had classes doing weaving on a small scale.

Other high schools, not only in Orange county, but in various other sections of Southern California, now are beginning to know an active interest in this revival of an almost forgotten art, Mrs. Lane said, and numerous requests are received by the school here for a demonstration of the

PRIZE ORANGES SERVED ON SOUTHERN PACIFIC DINERS

NEW ADVENTIST CHURCH IN S. A. IS DEDICATED

The Santa Ana Seventh Day Adventist church dedicatory service, held Saturday afternoon in the church, on Fifteenth street, was largely attended by Adventists and their friends in this section of the county, and proved an occasion marking an advance step in the work of the Santa Ana church.

The new building was erected three years ago, but not until the last dollar of its cost was paid did the congregation feel free to hold the usual dedicatory exercises.

In the dedicatory address, Elder J. L. McElhany, of Glendale, president of the Pacific Union conference, commended the Santa Ana congregation for its loyalty and faithfulness and spirit of aggressiveness.

He said, in part: "This building is erected as a monument to Christ, and may be destroyed, but what we need today are living monuments in the lives of our church members."

Elder J. J. Nethery, of Riverside, president of the Southeastern California Conference of Seventh Day Adventists, also took part in the service, offering the dedicatory prayer.

Elder H. Basney, former pastor of the church, in giving a brief history of the church, stated that it cost $12,000, this low figure being made possible by the liberality of the business men and the donated labor by the church members.

The program follows: Voluntary—Mrs. Clyda Tompkins. Song, "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name"—Congregation. Scripture reading, 1st Kings 8:12-20—R. R. Breitigam.

Prayer—Prof. W. W. Ruble. Anthem, "Come Unto Me"—Choir, led by Mrs. L. B. Ragsdale. Dedicatory address—Elder J. L.

Travelers Acquainted with Southland Fruit While Enroute West

Much favorable comment has been made by travelers as a result of the action of the Southern Pacific company in serving Southern California's finest oranges, all prize winners at the recent San Bernardino Orange show, on its dining cars.

This was announced here today by L. B. Valla, district freight and passenger agent, Southern Pacific company, who said that 40 boxes of the golden fruit, which won the grand sweepstakes prize, formed the nucleus of a large consignment of the ribbon winning fruit distributed among all Southern Pacific dining cars.

The prize oranges were obtained by the railroad in order that passengers on its trains from the east might be given a foretaste of California's best fruit while en route to this state.

One large box of the prize fruit carefully was packed and shipped to President Calvin Coolidge, in Washington. The others then were distributed to the various diners of the Southern Pacific operating as far east as New Orleans and Chicago. Miss Thelma Gilbert, pretty employee of the railroad, checked the boxes and sampled the golden fruit.

"The purchase of these prize oranges is part of our policy of serving the very best products of California on our trains," declared Valla. "It is one of the most appropriate ways in which we can favorably call to the attention of travelers the excellent fruits, vegetables and other products grown here."

McElhany. Dedicatory prayer—Elder J. J. Nethery. Anthem, "Lead Us Onward"—Choir.

Five-minute speeches—Elder F. G. Ashbaugh, Pastor L. B. Ragsdale. Duet, "Come Holy Spirit"—Miss Reba Talbot and Howard Blackburn.

Benediction—Elder F. G. Ashbaugh. Representatives were present from the churches in Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange, Garden Grove, San Diego, Glendale and Riverside.

AIR COMMERCE IS SUBJECT OF CHAMBER TALK

Junior Division Meeting Is Addressed by President Of Western Aero League

Aviation, as related to commerce and industry, was the subject of an interesting address before the members of the junior division of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, in Ketter's cafe, last night, by Dr. W. D. Young, of Glendale, president of the Western Aero league.

Looking back, Dr. Young compared the inception of the air industry with the first steps of the auto business. Declaring that commercial aviation has come to stay and is now a paying business, he glanced into the future and predicted great aerial highways, main base lines east to west and numerous laterals running north and south. He said that the greatest endeavor of the airplane manufacturer today is to take war out of planes and put in commerce. He cited the growth of the air mail as an indication of what can be expected in the growth of commercial aviation.

The dirigible is destined to play an important part in commercial aviation, according to Dr. Young, who foretold days of transcontinental aerial express at rates cheaper than present express rates via railroad or land and water.

Uses Landing Fields

Dr. Young urged the chamber of commerce to install adequate landing fields near the center of population of the city, predicting cities having airports and landing fields will reap the benefits of commercial aviation.

Stunt flying over cities, or anywhere, for that matter, was criticized by Dr. Young, who declared it was unsafe for the flyer and likewise for the man on the ground. He urged legislation designed to eventually eradicate stunt flying. "It is the aim of the Western Aero league and kindred organizations," said Dr. Young, "to prove to the lay public that commercial aviation is safe."

The meeting, last night, was presided over by Mason Youd, the new president. Plans for the year were outlined.

Capt. Joseph Plank, head of the Forty and Eight, appeared before the junior division and urged the co-operation of that body in making the Boy Scout Jamboree, April 9, in Santa Ana, a success. The junior division appointed a committee to work with similar committees from the service clubs, American Legion and other organizations.

An invitation to take charge of the fifth section of the American Legion parade, on Armistice day, was referred to the next meeting of the board of directors.

A report from Treasurer Dean Collier showed the junior division to be financially healthy. Plans were completed for a dance, to be held April 1, at St. Ann's Inn. This will be an All-Fools dance. It will be a masque ball and will be participated in by both the senior and junior bodies.

Plan Joint Meeting

Stanley was appointed chairman of a committee composed of Frank West, G. K. Seovel, Charlie Winterburn and Cy Featherly, to meet with a committee from the senior division to arrange for a joint meeting, to be held at St. Ann's Inn, March 29.

Entertainment was furnished last night by the Rankin's Dry Goods Co-operative society, Miss Virginia Thatcher sang two solos, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Marie Fowler. She was followed by two piano selections, by Mrs. Fowler. The reading, "Sis Hopkins and Her Beau, Billious," was given by Flora McClure. Miss Helen Hull offered two original dance numbers. She was accompanied at the piano by L. R. Crawford.

INTERESTING CHARACTER ROLES ARE DEPICTED IN NEW COMMUNITY PLAY

Here are presented three of the interesting characters from "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," Community Players' production, to open tomorrow night in the Ebell auditorium, for a four nights run. Seated is Lula L. Brackett, (Mrs. Harry Brackett) as Miss Kite, a maiden lady; standing by her, Julia Beaumont Cummings (Mrs. William Cummings) enacts the role of Mrs. Percival De Hooley, a name she concocts from the more prosaic and unromantic name of Dooley, and A. D. Hoenschel, who plays the leading role of the Passer-by and occupant, for a brief period, of the Third Floor Back.

SOVIETISM DOES NOT EXIST IN STUDENT RANKS OF S. A. POLYTECHNIC HIGH SCHOOL

Sovietism, charged to be rampant among school students of the state, does not exist in the Santa Ana polytechnic high school, Principal D. K. Hammond stated today.

The Baroness Otilly de Ropp recently made an attack on the California schools and expressly on the Pasadena high school, where she said, "there were at least 100 students who were members of the 'Young Communists' International."

Alarm was felt over the situation and an investigation was begun by the state department of education. After the examination had been made, Will C. Wood, state superintendent of schools, in a bulletin, branded the charges as "defamatory and slanderous" and cleared the Pasadena high school.

"All such attacks are groundless," Hammond said. "Our students are as loyal as any class of people in the nation. A red organization could find no root among the Santa Ana students."

Colors Are Confused

Hammond told how the report, that Sovietism had cropped out in Pasadena, started. In a school pageant, the school colors of red and white were used for a rally. Red flags were used and this was taken as proof that Sovietism was becoming openly flaunted. Santa Ana's high school colors also are red and white.

The agitation, from which the fears of sovietism resulted, first became aroused at the district meeting of the Parent-Teacher association, in Garden Grove, early this year. For that reason, developments are of local interest.

Schools of Southern California have begun to take cognizance of a warning, sent out by Superintendent Wood recently, against "an alleged baroness of the defunct Russian nobility." A scheduled lecture of Baroness Otilly de Ropp, in Pomona, March 28, has been cancelled.

The lecture was ordered cancelled by the Pomona Parent-Teacher association, when the message of Wood was received at the Pomona high school, according to a dispatch received here.

The superintendent's bulletin, carrying a warning against the baroness, was sent out following two addresses, which she made last month, one in Stockton, before the Alameda District Federation of Women's clubs, in which she attacked Dr. Anna Louise Strong, a Communist, and the other, in San Francisco, before the Dietrichs of the American Revolution, where she declared that Bolshevism is rampant among the school children and college students of the state.

Baroness de Ropp's charges against Dr. Strong, in which she charged that the clubwoman was in the pay of the Russian Soviet leaders for spreading the doctrine of Communism in America, precipitated a row, in the bay district club circles, which has not yet fully subsided.

Speaking in San Francisco, the baroness said that there are students in the Pasadena high school, who either are wearing the insignia of the organization, which she said is spreading out in America and was attempting to undermine the government here, or carry an emblem which bore the profile of Lenin.

Baroness Is Attacked

Baroness de Ropp's two addresses in northern California brought about severe attacks upon her from clubwomen and resulted in Wood's warning, through his bulletins, to all schools in the state. The action of the Pomona school authorities is expected to be followed by other schools in Southern California, where the baroness is said to have speaking dates during the next two months.

Here is the context of Superintendent Wood's bulletin: "Recently, several vicious attacks have been made upon the public schools, or on the teachers and pupils of the public schools, by organizations and agitators masquerading as educators."

Spiritual Presentation Is Sanctioned by S. A. Ministers

Just what reception is the Santa Ana ministry going to accord the Community Players' production of "The Passing of the Third Floor Back?" That is a question which has occurred frequently to minds of those interested in the success of the Players' organization, now approaching its sixth birthday.

Throughout the history of the little group of talented folk, handed together to offer worth-while entertainment to Santa Ana, the churches have stood rigidly back of the movement with but one exception, a play which, while artistic in the extreme, was felt to have offered a questionable entertainment in point of language.

When decision was reached to present Jerome K. Jerome's great stage success, with its decidedly spiritual theme, it interested the association to learn just what attitude the clergy is taking.

"We always have advertised the Community Players' productions from our pulpits and bulletins," today commented the Rev. Otto S. Russell, pastor of the First Baptist church. "We felt that our confidence was misplaced when one play was given, for we could not afford to use the church and the church bulletin to advertise a performance that was morally and ethically of so low a standard. We might have as well advertised any cheap show that came to the city."

Back of Players

"As a church, we want to stand back of the Players and, when they maintain a certain standard, we give our support enthusiastically. I consider the approaching play a splendid one, with a great lesson, and sanction it without any reservations."

"While I have not read 'The Passing of the Third Floor Back,' my impression is that it is a highly commendable play," declared the Rev. W. L. H. Benton, rector of the City of St. Michael's. "We all know that the stage is unreservedly condemned by some and they would discredit even such a play as this, upon the principle that 'no good could come from Nazareth.' To my mind, that is a mistaken idea; the stage is a potential factor in teaching the great facts and principles of life. Of course such things can be abused, but if properly presented, are highly valuable."

"We all know people of the stage, who are extremely delightful. Some of them and their plays are, of course, very reprehensible, but these should not lead us to condemn them utterly."

"In the current offering of the Players it seems to me that there is no attempt to impress the Christian with the working-out of Christ-like principles. It should offer a remarkable lesson and should receive our entire support."

Called Wonderful Play

"It is a perfectly wonderful play declared the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, with conviction. "The play is a masterpiece in the presentation of that of my church, in presenting it, and not only that, but personally, I am most happy that it is to be given locally and that Santa Ana is to have the pleasure of seeing it."

"My approval is being expressed by the posters, which we are displaying conspicuously in the church, and also by the fact that the play is mentioned in the weekly bulletin we issue for Sunday and mid-week events. I always have boosted for the Community Players, but feel that they should be careful about the class of plays presented, as they always should offer entertainment to which parents can take impressionable children, secure in the knowledge that there will be nothing to offend or shock young ears."

The Rev. Moffet Rhodes, of the Spurgeon Memorial church, showed an equally friendly attitude toward the production and the Players, expressing a willingness to further such enterprises in every way that a church could do. "I never would have any personal objections to presenting plays in the community unless they are farcistic or vulgar," he replied quickly, when DOES FLAPPER TYPE DEVELOP AS RESULT OF CO-EDUCATION?

Negative Answers to Questions Given by Officials Of Local Public Schools

DIFFER WITH IDEA OF N. Y. PROFESSOR

Gotham Educator Asserts Girls of Today Are Perfect Herd Mind Example

In co-education a failure? Is it tending to lower moral standards? Does it develop the "flapper" type? Is it responsible for the so-called "herd mind"? Has it failed to accomplish desired results?

These and other questions, raised by eastern educators, are answered in the negative by J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, and D. K. Hammond, principal of the Santa Ana high school.

At a recent meeting of educators in New York, David Snedden, professor of educational sociology at the New York Teachers' college, declared that there soon would be a movement to do away with co-educational schools, following the changing moral and economic standards of the day.

Flapper Type of Herd Mind

As reported by New York papers, Snedden went on to say:

"The flapper type of today is a perfect example of what has been called the 'herd mind,' which is a characteristic of many groups which forego their own kind to the exclusion of other types of people. In the case of the flapper, I am sure that 90 per cent of her vital personal reaction comes from other persons of her own type. It is not her parents, not her elders, not her minister, who exert the greatest influence."

"Where come the standards of these girls? Undoubtedly from their own group, which is evolving codes of conduct of its own regarding liquor, sex, dress and property. I am wondering if some girls are not betraying, unconsciously, naively, innocently perhaps, the standards of their elders, slowly evolved during centuries. It is possible that parents will bring about a breakdown of the co-educational system in the light of these considerations."

Defense of Co-education

A vigorous defense of co-education is contained in a statement prepared by Superintendent Cranston. It follows:

"Man is a social being, so is a woman and so are boys and girls. They seek association and fellowship, and are not happy until they find it. There is something radically wrong with any one who seeks the hermit life for any great length of time."

"Our purpose in education should be to surround the child with a normal

And thereto hangs a tale

It's absolutely none of our business. Yet, we must be amused—or bust. And when that Los Angeles hostess (as reported) nailed her guests to the dinner table! Now that's not right. What she actually did was to nail the place cards down. In that way each guest had to stay put.

Of course, because some people are tire-ing, we pick up our ears. And auto tires are a little bit like people. Some wear well and some are just full of wind. The latter are likely to pop out and often. And when we personally guarantee 'em (tires), we thought it over at least once. For, because, since and owing to the fact that this automobile tire agency is here to remain—if you know what we mean).

Certainly... of course... surely... if the carcass is worthy and the retreading is done with rubber. Then we re-treaded those tires.

Keep Looking Young

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels. There's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you nine per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 10c and 20c.

WEST END THEATER
"Hearts O'Farrell," the character portrayed by Milburn Moranti, in "With Buffalo Bill On the U. P. Trail," an epic of frontier days which is showing at the West End En route, the mother contracted life itself.

In 1849, when the gold rush for California started, there was an old gambler near Louisville, Kentucky, who was smitten with the gold fever, and packing up his few belongings, taking his wife and their three month old baby, purchased tickets via the wagon train for California.

En route, the mother contracted a sudden illness and perished, she was buried on the plains of Kansas with a plain simple cross of wood for a headstone. The gambler continued, however, with the child, being both father and mother to the child. In California he struck it rich, but continued to raise his child amid the atmosphere of the saloons and the dance halls, until he was killed by accident exactly as it is pictured in the photoplay.

Moranti gives a most touching characterization, and takes starring honors along with Roy Stewart, Cullen Landis, Kathryn McGuire, Sheldon Lewis, Earle Metcalfe and the dozens of other well-known players appearing in the picture.

YOST THEATER

The Charleston—as it ought to be done! The exponents—"Ginger" Rogers, Earl Leach and Jo Butler.

"Ginger" Rogers, champion Charleston dancer of Texas, together with Earl Leach and Jo Butler, runners-up for the championship, opened at the Yost theater last night in a whirlwind routine of Charleston steps, featuring their own origination, the Charleston Tango. Four other acts are included in the vaudeville program.

Ernie Gold and Grace Sunshine present a delightful innovation called "An Oriental Rhapsody" with a hint of a plot interwoven around the songs, dances and musical selections.

Much has been said and written about the foibles of the present-day flapper. She is the basis of the act of Grey and Byron entitled "The Weigh of the Flapper," and is pictured in all her vagaries through the means of songs and chatter.

The capital entertainers in the persons of rt Rogers and Al Gamble will provide much merriment and astonishment with their act, "Laughter and Learning." Gamble is a mathematical wonder and memorizer. He can answer mentally, questions regarding multiplication, addition, subtraction and division, including the largest numbers, with but a moment's hesitation. Rogers is the comedian of the firm.

Pet and LeAnna and company present a "Silent Revue" with a repertoire of foot juggling tricks that is amazing. Two athletic young men and two women compose the personnel of this acrobatic group.

"Just Suppose," with Richard Barthelmess in the featured role, is the Yost theater's current screen attraction.

WEST COAST-WALKER.

When you say "the most beautiful girls in Hollywood" you mean beautiful and "nothing else but," because Hollywood, among other things, is recognized all over the world as the abode of the fairest of the fair.

Nearly 100 girls who were selected on just this description form the personnel of the spectacular beauty ballet in the circus sequence of "The Devil's Circus." Benjamin Christianson's production, which finishes its run tonight at the West Coast-Walker theater.

Whether they were beautiful but dumb, as their critics have so fearlessly stated, was not considered in their selection. The only qualification mentioned was that they be girls whose beauty had been recognized by prizes in beauty contests, bathing pageant and like picnests.

The harem scene in the circus sequence in which these shapely beauties parade their charms before the sultan, is one of the most beautiful ever conceived for a motion picture.

The jewels in the picture's crown of beauty are Norma Shearer and Carmel Myers. The cast of the picture induces Charles Emmett Mack, John Hilljan, Joyce Coad and the dog Buddy.

The West Coast presentation this week is a Fanchon and Marco "Dream Song Idea," with Fay Adler and Ted Bradford, adagio team; James Burroughs, captivation tenor from the New York "Blossom Time" show; Sammy Carr, banjo specialty; Georgia Starke, coloratura soprano, formerly starred with the Mission Players and featured by Fanchon and Marco in "Beneath the Cloak;" Mlle. Suzette, an exquisite dancer in new waltz steps; and a chorus of Sunkist beauties.

The theme of the act is a new waltz number just published, entitled "Do You Believe in Dreams?" The costumes which were designed by Miss Fanchon, represent the tints of blue sky with myriads of tiny stars. The hats represent the moon and the dance numbers blend into the dreamy environment.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL
AT THE AGE OF 93

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician of 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many men, women, children, and particularly old folks, had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all headaches, biliousness, indigestion and stomach misery, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup of Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even for those chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup ading under the banner of Americanism. It has been freely asserted that the schools either are supporting or tolerating the spread of Communist propaganda among the pupils; that some of the teachers are disloyal to American principles.

"Much of this slander of the public schools is whispered and therefore hard to trace to its source. However, in one instance, lately the attack has been sufficiently open to make an investigation possible. In this instance, a alleged barones of the defunct Russian nobility solemnly asserted in a public address that there were more than 100 Communist pupils in the Pasadena high school, giving as her authority a prominent Pasadena woman. This woman promptly disavowed responsibility for the statement and the school authorities in Pasadena made indignant denial. Investigation failed to reveal a basis for the outrageous charge. It is evident that the splendid organization before whom this woman speaker made the statement was imposed upon. The time has come to challenge such defamatory and slanderous attacks on the public schools.

Attempt Terror Reign

"It is evident that an effort is being made to start a reign of terror in the public schools, the chief instigators being embittered ex-nobles from Europe and patrioters, whose chief interest in Americanism is to obtain contributions to the funds of their organizations. The American school is a fundamental American institution. It seems strange that patriotic organizations will countenance unwarranted attacks upon the schools.

"I request that I be informed by superintendents and principals immediately when an attack is made upon the integrity or patriotism of the schools, teachers, or the pupils, so that a proper investigation can be made and unworthy slanders refuted."

mal and natural environment, so that he may develop physically, mentally, morally and spiritually. Into a self-respecting and respected citizen. Separation is not natural or normal.

"Fortunate is the home with at least one boy and girl, for fortunate for the boy and girl, for they have an opportunity to become adjusted one to the other. The girl needs the influence that comes from daily association with her big brother, and the boy needs the refining, gentle influence that comes from his sister. But whether a home has this happy combination or not, boys and girls should be taught in the home the proper relationship that should exist between boys and girls when they associate together.

"Girls should be taught that 'familiarity breeds contempt,' and that boys as a rule have a higher regard for girls who resent undue familiarity."

Statement by Hammond

Here is what Principal Hammond has to say about co-education: "At best or at worst I can see only an indirect connection between co-education and the rise of the flapper. It seems to me that our increased wealth, giving greater opportunity for leisure, our 'movies,' our lack of parental restraint, are more largely responsible for flapperism and moral laxity.

"Segregation of the sexes in education implies faith in the doctrine of repression. I believe that we should attempt to use direction rather than repression in training adolescents. If their confidence and good will are secured, they will take kindly to suggestions and respond to good precepts and examples. Confidence can not be secured by constant denials and repressions. Our boys and girls must be made to feel that they are on their honor to control their conduct and to heed those social regulations which culture and good breeding dictate. Co-education affords excellent opportunity for practice in those finer graces which are the hallmark of a lady or gentleman."

LONG LOST ART IS REVIVED IN WEAVING CLASS

"The looms used are operated on the same principles as employed in the looms used in the days of our grandparents, when practically all articles of clothing and other cloth products used in the home were produced by the women in their own homes," Mrs. Lane said.

Looms Made in School
All looms now in use in the department, with the exception of the three purchased when the classes first were formed, have been manufactured by boys in the school shop and, as the classes expand, additional looms will be made by the boys, it was said.

Weaving is an art and a thorough knowledge of its principles and practice can be of inestimable advantage to a student during or after finishing the high school course. Mrs. Lane pointed out. Ready sale is found for the many beautiful articles, which the average student is able to produce on the looms and many students are able to pay at least a part of their school expenses by making articles for sale.

With the increasing interest in this "lost art" now being shown among high school students, experienced weavers are likely to be much in demand as instructors, she said.

Miss Julia Medina, a second year student in the weaving class of the school, recently was "borrowed" by the arts department of the Fullerton union high school, where first steps now are being taken toward the introduction of a course in weaving. Miss Medina gave the teachers, who are to handle the new department, preliminary instruction in the handling of the looms.

Pays School Expenses
Miss Medina is the most outstanding student in the weaving class this year. Mrs. Lane said, and already has completed five complete dresses, several table runners, curtains, couch covers, cushion tops and shawls and is paying her entire school expenses by this means.

Miss Marjorie Foreythe, another second year student in the class, also is turning out exceptional work. Mrs. Lane said. The designs used in the various products are known as the "colonial repeats," but the colorings are original with the students and much artistry has been displayed by the student craftsmen in their color combinations.

Ministers Sanction Community Play

asked his opinion of such an organization, in general, and "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," in particular. "I am not familiar with the current attraction at all, but understand that it is admirable in its plot and development and teaches a very valuable lesson. As a minister, I am willing and glad to sanction anything of benefit to the cultural life of the community."

Finest Drama Seen
The Rev. William E. Roberts, of the First Presbyterian church, has given the play unqualified praise. On first learning that it was to be presented, he said:

"I first saw 'The Passing of the Third Floor Back' with Forbes Robertson playing 'The Stranger.' It was incomparably the finest modern drama I ever saw. The production of such a play should commend itself to all our citizens. The Community Players could make no finer contribution to the city's cultural growth than to produce it."

The sentiments expressed so freely by these pastors also were voiced by the Rev. W. H. McPeak, of the United Presbyterian church, who, like his brothers of the cloth, is aiding by displaying posters in the church entrance halls and by having attention called to the dates of Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, in either church bulletins or announcement from the pulpit.

All of which would seem an augury for success in a pronounced degree for the March production of the Players, to open its four night run tomorrow, in the Ebell auditorium.

Political Periscope

CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE ARE AFFECTED BY SPRING FEVER

It's spring fever time among those who are willing to be elected or re-elected to office.

Spring fever denotes a restlessness. With two full-fledged candidates entering the race for treasurer, Assemblyman S. C. Hartranft heralding his desire to be returned to Sacramento, and other political smoke appearing on the horizon, the political periscope has been furnished by usage this past week or two.

There hasn't been a hand turned locally in regard to federal or state candidacies. The month of March has passed quietly to this date, without a candidate appearing to see how the land lies in these parts. There has been some talk of organizing a C. C. Young-for-Governor club here, but nothing has been done about it. Some of these days there will be half a dozen "club-for" organized here in a week's time. So far, the only organization of that kind is one for Judge Clarke for U. S. senator.

Livesey Admits It

Close on the heels of the announcement that Horace Fine, newspaperman, was a candidate for county treasurer, comes a typewritten statement from J. E. Livesey sr., signed in ink, making it perfectly plain that he, too, seeks that job. It took no periscope to discover this secret, for the letter was brought to the Register office by Jimmie Livesey himself. He and Horace Fine shook hands, and said "may the best man win."

Incidentally, there has been some inquiry as to whether County Treasurer J. C. Joplin will be a candidate for re-election. He says he is, and he ought to know.

Stanley May Run

Out in the fifth supervisorial district, where every man is a potential candidate for supervisor, there is quite a bit of smoke. Supervisor George Jeffrey declared without hesitation that he is a candidate for re-election. With him, it is not a case of going to be; he is a candidate right now.

With equal fervor, the periscope gets it that Howard Wassum, former supervisor, is circulating around. He says he is in and is going to stay in until votes do us part.

But it has been known for a couple of months that Jeffrey and Wassum were running, and it was also known that Roy Smith, of Tustin, was thinking it over. So far, he has indulged in thinking only; he has cast no decision.

However, here is something that is new. It appears that Samuel W. Stanley, walnut grower, secretary of the Tustin Chamber of Commerce, past president of the Orange County Farm bureau, etc., is just as likely as not to say to the public of the fifth district, "Some of my friends want me to run, and I'll run."

By the way, this fifth district has a lot of new voters to be taken into consideration. Not so very long ago, a wise man who knew his district could tell just about what would happen on election day in any given precinct in that district. But the voting personnel of the fifth isn't what it used to be. All that annexed portion south of the old city limits down toward Delhi lies in the fifth district, and see what's happened in Costa Mesa, Tustin, Newport Beach, Laguna and San Juan Capistrano during the past four years of vigorous traffic and subdivision, and such like activity as that.

Hartranft Is In

It may be suspected that the announcement that emanated from the fountain pen of Assemblyman S. C. Hartranft, of Fullerton, to the effect that he is to seek re-election, was meant to set at rest any idea that some may have had as to his intentions. Also, it takes no great shakes of a political guesser to surmise that this firm statement from Hartranft might be supposed to have some weight with heading off a growing crop of may-be candidacies.

For instance, it is known that Harry W. Lewis, East Fourth street, has had the question of running for assemblyman up for consideration.

Also, it may be that a report, apparently well founded, that J. P.

Greeley, of Balboa, could be or had been persuaded to run for assemblyman had something to do with Hartranft's formal declaration.

Anyhow, at this time, Hartranft has announced himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for assemblyman, and Lewis and Greeley are in the office.

Metzgar Nearly Persuaded

And now to wind up this periscope expedition, we will turn the peeper instrument toward the lower southwest corner of the courthouse into a room made famous by Judge Cox. And to the desk where sits Justice of the Peace K. E. Morrison.

Who will occupy this chair during the next four-year term?

Of course, it would be impossible to make answer at this moment. Morrison will quite likely have opposition. It became known today that among those who are considering making the race for the justiceship is James C. Metzgar, well known resident of this county seat, former secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and at present manager of the Keystone Advertising agency.

The WOMAN'S DAY

By Allene Sumner

A Few Choice Words!

Considerable ado about the tarring of Vera Cathart without our nation's gates! Perhaps rightly. But somehow I can't get nearly as much wrought up over any injustice sustained by Vera as I can over the spectacle of hundreds of thousands of shawl-headed immigrant wives and daughters of men in this country sent back to the homeland every year because "the quota is filled."

But, although our nation's laws have deliberately wrecked the family which, in theory, it recognizes as "the unit of society," no one got much excited about it until recently. They do say the new law, which will not include the quota women folks of men already in this land, will go through! Here's hoping!

Ford is going into the cloth business. He is starting a factory which will manufacture upholstery cloth for his famous vehicle. Hundreds of women who can't afford a spring suit hope that Henry can get in on this sartorial problem and help a little!

The average soft coal miner in America earns $1800 yearly. The average miner's family is six. A New York lady complains that she cannot even clothe herself "decently" on a yearly alimony of $100,000.

Political

Our nation's educators marched to the White House demanding a secretary of education in the president's cabinet. Not such an unreasonable request, it would seem! After all, we do have as many children of school age in this nation as hogs and cattle, and a cabinet officer for the express purpose of fostering livestock is not considered unreasonable at all!

The governor of the state of Ohio starts an investigation of the rumored state of women as "decoys" to "get" a man. Much ado about it. Perhaps rightly so. But for the sweet sake of consistency, why not tirade against the practice in all departments of justice? The police departments of all our large cities nab a large majority of their suspects by the use of the woman "decoy," as the poor persecuted "movie lizard" will testify!

Books Talked About

The "Outline" craze which began with H. G. Wells' "Outlines of History" and was followed by "Outlines in science, literature, and the arts" now adds an "Outline of Christianity," which purports to be "the whole story of civilization." By 100 authors. Five volumes. Worth several club programs.

"Hans, they expect too much. And that makes me afraid for them." So says the interesting wife Cynthia to her husband in what I prophesy to be spring's best seller, "Foundations of Spring," by Sylvia Thompson. The progeny are the subject of discussion. "We must somehow make them realize that there may be difficulties; that they can't just bask in the sun and enjoy themselves." Now, you parents, go on and lick it up!

Ye Style!

A woman might as well be dead as out of style, some prehistoric wise-cracker commented. We warn, therefore, against any untimely demise by offering these sartorial tips:

Knitted duds for spring are aces. Knitted jumper frocks, sports coats, sweaters, and skirts.

High-battling will be the popular outdoor sport this spring. Hats are higher than anything but the Woolworth building. Wee, brimless high hats of faille or grosgrain are to be very popular.

NEWS from ORANGE COUNTY

OIL QUESTION TO BE DECIDED BY H. B. VOTERS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 16.—Following talks by citizens, members of the board of trustees here last night adopted a resolution placing the lifting of oil restrictions from seventeenth to Twenty-Third streets on the ballot in the coming municipal elections, April 12.

A petition signed by more than 800 people is said to be in the hands of persons who have been agitating the lifting of oil drilling restrictions but this petition has never been filed.

The action of the trustees came suddenly, as they refused to assure the petitioners at a recent meeting whether or not they would take any action on the matter.

The proposition of lifting restrictions to Seventeenth street is one which the majority of people favor, it is asserted. The matter has been voted down twice before by the residents of the town but the present excitement indicates that the people may raise the restrictions and settle once and for all time the question of whether or not oil lies beneath the ground in the restricted area.

RABBI TO SPEAK AT FORUM DINNER

ANAHEIM, March 16.—Rabbi Ernest Trattner, of the Los Angeles Jewish temple, is to be principal speaker at the next Forum club meeting in the White Temple Methodist church auditorium, this city, on March 22, it was announced today by Warren Ashleigh, president of the club.

Rabbi Trattner's subject will be "The Seven Wonders of the Modern World."

The meeting will open with a banquet at 6:30 o'clock. The program is to include Ellis Rhodes, soloist and director of the Orange County Choral union, Mrs. Holly Lash Visel, reader, and a surprise comedy stunt.

Old Friends Meet At Southern Club

BALBOA, March 16.—When John H. McNeice, of Los Angeles, dropped into the Southern Seas club Sunday afternoon with a party of friends, including Lord Frederick Auckland, of London, Miss Maud Allen, of London, and Mrs. J. Hall, of Los Angeles, he met with an agreeable surprise.

McNeice found in the genial manager of the Southern Seas club, C. M. Sloan, the man for whom more than 17 years ago he acted as best man at his wedding. McNeice was present when Sloan received his initiatory work into the Masonic order. The two men had not met for more than 17 years. When they last saw each other, they were in Canada.

McNeice and his party spent the evening in the Southern Seas club after being directed to the club by J. P. Greeley, vice president, and when he entered the club McNeice did not know that his old friend was the manager of the club.

A number of other guests registered at the club over the weekend. Among the guests were Mrs. James O. Stevenson, of Long Beach; L. F. Billings, of Long Beach; Oscar Hellstrom, Stockholm, Sweden; Mr. and Mrs. Mel J. Manasse; Mrs. Ann Bufant; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Law and Dr. and Mrs. E. N. McKee, of Los Angeles.

Says Boats Disturb His Slumber

NEWPORT BEACH, March 16.—Speed boats, circling Balboa island on Sundays, are too noisy and disturb one's sleep, according to a letter read to the board of trustees last night.

The letter was written by P. J. Weisel, of Santa Ana, owner of a summer home on Balboa island. Weisel declared he objected to the noise made by the boats.

The letter was written to J. A. Beek, commodore of the Newport Harbor Yacht club. Beek turned the matter over to the city trustees. No action was taken.

ERNEST GRILL CANDIDATE FOR SCHOOL BOARD

NEWPORT BEACH, March 16.—Ernest Grill, popular Balboa real estate man, will be a candidate for the office of elementary school trustees, it was announced today. Andrew Wilson, whose term on the school board expires this month, will not be a candidate for re-election. There has been no other person suggested for the office and it is not believed that Grill will encounter opposition.

The other two members of the local school board are Mrs. J. A. Porter and Mrs. Lew Wallace.

Two schools in the Newport district will elect trustees. Two new trustees will also be elected in the Costa Mesa district. Both Grow S. Brown and Mrs. Margaret Stearns, now on the Costa Mesa board of school trustees, have declared their intention of running for re-election. It is being predicted that other nominations will be filed with the clerk of the grammar school board before the time for the elections.

The school trustees will be elected March 28.

NEWPORT BOAT RACE IS SET FOR APRIL 4

NEWPORT BEACH, March 16.—A change in the date of the next speed boat race on Newport bay has been made by the officials of the 151 Hydroplane association, April 4, the new date, will witness a big event in which nine boats are expected to compete.

Dick Loyne, back from Florida, will pilot Smiling Dan III, and other members of the hydroplane fraternity are hoping to show some speed which will test Loyne's going powers to the limit.

The race on April 4, which will be in three heats over a new five-mile course, will start at 2 o'clock.

J. A. Beek, commodore of the Newport Harbor Yacht club, will appoint race officials and have charge of the course. The city of Newport Beach will offer trophies for the winners.

A record crowd is expected as the races are to be included in a moving picture of importance and the event will include a number of unusual features. Reservations for accommodations are coming in three weeks ahead of the occasion.

Fosters Matches At Beach School

NEWPORT BEACH, March 16.—School spirit at the local elementary school is fostered in many ways. The latest way devised by Principal H. O. Ensign is the promotion of a series of reading, composition and spelling matches. The school is divided into two sides and the contests are held at an assembly each week.

This Friday afternoon, the students will gather in the school auditorium for an old-fashioned spelling bee.

Students of the school have recently taken up the work of forming a safety committee to prevent accidents on the school grounds. A number of boys and girls will be appointed to watch for things on the grounds which are liable to cause accidents and will report them whenever necessary. The movement is being fostered by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, March 16.—The funeral of the late William W. Solesbee was held yesterday from the McAuley and Suter funeral parlors, the Rev. Charles E. Fuller, of Placentia Calvary church, officiating. The burial was at Loma Vista cemetery, with the Fullerton I. O. O. F. lodge in charge of services at the grave.

Mr. Solesbee was 70 years of age, and had been a resident of Placentia for the past five years. He had been in poor health for some time and died after a week's illness, following an operation at a hospital in Anaheim.

He leaves a widow, who is seriously ill with pneumonia at the home of her son in Placentia at present, two daughters, Mrs. J. J. White, of Campbell, Mo., Mrs. L. M. Brown, of Portland, Ore., and three sons, W. D. Solesbee, H. J. Solesbee and George C. Solesbee, all of Placentia.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Zimmerman and Miss Grace Key, of Los Angeles, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Huntley of Madison avenue, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davis, of Long Beach, spent the week-end with Mr. Davis' mother, Mrs. Mary F. Key, of Placentia avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Travers were at their cottage at Newport Beach on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Margaret Strain has been ill with neuritis at her home.

One of the many enjoyable vanishing luncheons that are bringing together so many groups of women for a pleasant social time, was given the end of last week by Mrs. C. E. Farrer and her mother, Mrs. Marcia Gifford, at the Farrer home on Bradford avenue. The invited guests were Mrs. Carrie Ford, Mrs. W. W. Krick and her guest, Mrs. Chappell; Mrs. R. F. Coyle, Miss Carrie Haviland, Mrs. A. J. Robinson, Mrs. George L. Kennedy, Dr. Sarah K. Honey and Mrs. H. J. Farrer.

Mrs. Ella Normandy, of Los Angeles, is spending some time with her niece, Mrs. Fred Tuffee, who has been seriously ill with influenza.

Asher Wallace, student at the St. Louis university's school of medicine, has been seriously ill in the hospital for several weeks, but is now slowly improving and will come as far as Colorado Springs to rest for a few days with relatives, before proceeding here to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Bowen and children, who have all been ill with influenza, are now improving.

The Social Circle of the Presbyterian church will hold a cooked food sale on Saturday and will also offer for sale a number of articles that were left over from the bazaar sale.

Mrs. Antonette Nanno and daughter, Faustina, of Fullerton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Blackmer and Miss Ada Sturdevant on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cohoe and daughter, Enid, were dinner guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Key in Fullerton.

Mr. and Mrs. James Huntley are driving a new sedan.

Lowell Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Green, has been quite ill for several days with a severe attack of influenza.

CORONA DEL MAR STREETS WILL BE IMPROVED SOON; DROP NEWPORT LAND SUITS

NEWPORT BEACH, March 16.—The adoption of plans and specifications for the paving of a large number of streets in Corona Del Mar featured a meeting of the local city trustees last night.

City Engineer Paul Kressly presented maps showing which streets were to be improved. Practically all north and south streets will be paved with macadam and a few of the east and west streets will be paved to connect them. In places where the grade of the street is more than six per cent, concrete will have to be used, it was explained by Kressly, as the macadam is difficult to lay on a sloping surface. Culverts and drains will also be installed.

A resolution providing for improvements on the coast boulevard, which will include the installation of an ornamental lighting system and the remodeling of the water system installed along the street, was passed.

Two condemnation suits, recently started by the city, were held up temporarily at the order of the city trustees when it was announced that settlements probably could be made. The suit against the C. C. Henry property on Central avenue in Balboa was ordered dropped, as it was reported that Henry had reached an agreement with his tenant and would deed the property to the city.

The suit against the water reservoir was also ordered halted. The land was offered to the city for a certain price. The owner refused to sell when the time came and it was necessary to start condemnation proceedings, as the reservoir is partly constructed. Now, the owner is ready to settle with the city and last night asked the city to make an offer. Trustees authorized the city clerk to offer the owner $700 for the property.

Steps were also taken by the trustees to prevent oil running through the city dump ground and into the bay. A report made at the meeting showed that oil companies near Costa Mesa were in the habit of letting water and oil escape and run down a gully across the city dump ground, where it went into the bay. It is probable that an injunction will be taken out against the oil companies if the practice does not stop. The superintendent of streets was ordered to serve the oil companies with written notice to take care of the oil and water.

BEACH AUXILIARY PLANS FAR SOON

NEWPORT BEACH, March 16.—New ideas are the hobby of the local American Legion auxiliary and its latest idea promises to be a good one. Members of the organization are planning a fair.

Just what this fair is to be like has not been divulged by the members of the organization but details will be decided from time to time. Mrs. A. E. Woolard, chairman of the finance committee, has placed Mrs. S. A. Cundiff in charge.

The preliminary plans for the fair were laid at a recent meeting of the organization. Members of the Legion post of the harbor district were present at the meeting, which was a joint affair. Both organizations held short business sessions before the joint meeting.

Girl Scout work in Newport and Balboa will be fostered in the future by the auxiliary. Miss Clara Germain, leader of the Girl Scout troop here, has been extended an invitation to attend the next meeting of the Legion auxiliary, March 23, at 7:30 p. m. Miss Germain will be asked to acquaint members of the auxiliary with the work of the Girl Scouts.

Members of the auxiliary will elect a member to the executive board to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Mrs. Harry Welch. The constitution and by-laws of the organization will also be read.

At the close of the recent joint meeting, the Legion and the auxiliary joined in a dance and social time. Refreshments were served by a committee in charge of Mrs. Eugene Reber.

12 Girl Scouts Study Park Birds

NEWPORT BEACH, March 16.—Girl Scouts, in charge of Miss Clara Germain, made their second trip to study birds on Saturday. The girls motored to Orange County park.

Eighteen young kinds of birds were found in the trees at the park and the girls returned home well satisfied. They recently made a trip along the coast and studied more than 20 different kinds of birds. Following trips, meetings are held and discussion is held by the girls about the birds they have seen.

The girls are planning a trip to Trabuco canyon in the near future, when more birds will be studied. About 12 girls enjoyed the visit to the park.

2 Firms Using New Invention

FULLERTON, March 16.—The patented oil well survey instrument which was invented and developed by Alexander Anderson, of Fullerton, is being used by the two oil companies at Signal Hill whose drilling tools collided underground recently.

This instrument will determine the deflection of any hole, as well as determine the exact vertical depth, it is reported.

If the operations of the instrument hold true, the problem of drilling holes straight will be solved, it is claimed.

Mrs. Eva Boyd Is Board Candidate

ANAHEIM, March 16.—Mrs. Eva Boyd, prominent civic worker of this city, has announced herself as a candidate for the position of grammar school trustee and will oppose Miss E. Kate Rea, incumbent trustee, in the election to be held March 26 it was announced today.

Miss Rea, who was appointed to the board during the past school year by County Superintendent of Schools Mitchell to fill a vacancy on the board caused by a mid-year resignation, recently announced herself as a candidate.

NEWS FROM ORANGE AND SURROUNDING DISTRICT

EMPLOYERS OF CLUB MEMBERS DINNER GUESTS

ORANGE, March 16.—Voices from the future entertained the Business and Professional Women's club at the dinner last night at the Hotel Rochester in honor of employers. The feature of the evening was the broadcasting of messages and telegrams from members as they would be sent in the year 1948. Mrs. Mabel Wimmer officiated as broadcaster over the mythical radio station P. E. P., located in the mythical roof garden.

The dinner began at 6:30 o'clock with an address of welcome to the employers by the president, Miss Mildred Anderson. The employers' response was given by Mike Elitiste, of Elitiste's Implement company. Chad Robinson, local baritone, sang two numbers, and Mrs. Eleanor Young Elliott, of the Santa Ana Register, gave two readings. Mrs. Le Blong Whitcomb, of Los Angeles, spoke on "Knowing Your Stuff."

"In order to avoid having so many misfits in business, employers should study the characters of applicants for positions before hiring anyone," stated Mrs. Whitcomb. About 65 attended the banquet. Miss Nellie Kilns was the toastmistress. Decorations of sweet peas and daffodils were used.

Cars Damaged In Orange Crashes

ORANGE, March 16.—Two automobile collisions in Orange over the week-end resulted in damaged cars, but no personal injuries. During the blaze at the Barr Lumber company's plant Saturday, Louis Koth, Orange, had his car sideswiped in the heavy traffic by W. Frank Helm of Bellflower. Damaged fenders was the extent of injury to both cars.

Frank Oliver of Orange, crashed with George Lawrence of Santa Ana Sunday afternoon. Oliver's car suffered a broken wheel and Lawrence's auto sustained crushed fenders.

Jack Duncan, 36, steam shovel engineer of Orange was taken into custody Sunday afternoon for drunkenness and cited to appear tomorrow before Recorder G. W. Ingle to answer to a charge of intoxication.

Narcotic Skit To Be Presented

ORANGE, March 16.—"The Judge and the Dope Peddler" is the title of a stage skit which will be presented at the Woman's club tonight at 8 o'clock by the Anti-Narcotic League of America.

The drama will be enacted by Hall and Summer, and is said to be a powerful exposition of the drug traffic, interesting, educational and a drub of humor and pathos. No admission will be charged and the public is invited.

Grove W. C. T. U. to Meet Wednesday

GARDEN GROVE, March 16.—The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will take the form of a birthday party and will be held in the Baptist church bungalow on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Invitations were sent out for members to meet at the home of Mrs. A. L. Allen, but on account of illness, the place of meeting was changed. Everyone is cordially invited and a very enjoyable time is anticipated.

Loynes Is Guest At Balboa Club

NEWPORT BEACH, March 16.—Honoring Richard A. Loynes, Long Beach speed boat driver, who flew the flag of the Newport Harbor Yacht club to victory on the Atlantic coast, representatives of the yachting fraternity gathered at the Southern Seas club Sunday evening. Short talks were given.

Those present at the dinner were Dick Loyne and Henry L. Rhea, of Long Beach; H. L. Walker, F. Foreman and Joe Lord, of Los Angeles; Ben Cope, of Balboa; Leo Bauer and D. M. Calles, of San Pedro; S. A. Meyer, of Newport Beach; George Wilson, mayor of Newport Beach; L. W. Briggs, of Balboa; J. A. Beek, commodore of the Newport Harbor Yacht club; Harry Welch, secretary of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce, and George Peabody, president of the harbor chamber.

Representative To Chamber Chosen

FULLERTON, March 16.—W. J. Carmichael has been appointed as Fullerton representative to the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county to succeed G. W. Finch, who has resigned.

Civic Body Seeks 75 New Members

ORANGE, March 16.—Complete reports on the effort for new members being made by the Community Chamber of Commerce will not be obtained for several days, according to V. D. Johnson, local secretary.

"Several men were put in the field with membership cards to use as they met the prospective members during the course of their daily business," stated Johnson. "No bustling campaign was undertaken and for that reason, reports will be unavailable for several days."

The chamber is endeavoring to obtain 75 new members and $1300 more for its service fund, according to officials.

JUDGE FINDS EL MODENA NOT GUILTY

ORANGE, March 16.—Decision for the defendant, E. O. Didier, El Modena pool room proprietor, was rendered yesterday by Recorder G. W. Ingle when the case of Merle Kennedy of Long Beach, versus Didier, charging reckless driving on the night of December 25, 1925, was brought before him.

The accident, which occurred just out from El Modena on the road to Modjeska's ranch, caused the total wreck of both cars and injury to Mrs. Kennedy. Didier is said to have settled for the damage done to the car in which Mrs. Kennedy was riding, but he refused to settle for the personal injuries, claimed by Mrs. Kennedy to have resulted from the collision.

Disinterested witnesses for both sides agreed on the fact that both cars were crowding the center of the highway when the crash occurred. For this reason Recorder Ingle sustained the plea of Didier of not guilty to the reckless driving charge.

EL MODENA

EL MODENA, March 16.—For assembly last week, there were two very interesting pictures, one about the Panama canal and the other about Ireland.

Mrs. Fish has returned to her home in Escondido after an extended stay here taking care of her daughter, Miss Ruth, who has had scarlet fever.

John Secrist called on his aunt, Mrs. George Stoner, on his way from Imperial to his parents' home in Long Beach. Mr. Secrist and Paul Stoner are caring for the Stoner ranch at Imperial.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Tindell, of Long Beach, and Mrs. Tindell's sister, Miss Kate Benzinger, of Knoxville, Tenn., called on Mrs. W. A. Settle on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Tindell formerly lived on a ranch near here.

Friday afternoon, the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades had a picnic at Orange County Park. The picnic was the treat given by the losing teams in volleyball to the winner. A number of games were played during the afternoon. Then all were served with delicious ice cream and waffles. The teachers accompanying the pupils were Prof. E. R. Berry, Miss Lulu Evans, Miss Mary Brubaker, Miss Hazel Barnett, Miss Irma Moody, Mrs. Kate Reynolds, Miss Williamson and Miss Greer.

Friday evening, Miss Catherine Wood attended a picnic supper in Trabuco canyon with the chemistry class of the Santa Ana Junior college.

Herschel Settle accompanied by his father, W. A. Settle and daughter, Miss Henrietta, motored to Hemet Sunday to see Mr. Cranston, forest ranger. From Hemet, they drove to Oak Grove ranger station where Herschel Settle had spent some time while in the forest service.

Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Thomas, of Hollywood, were here Saturday looking over their ranch.

Harbor Chiefs Meet With Finch

FIRE VICTIMS IN ORANGE ARE OFFERED HELP

ORANGE, March 16.—That Orange citizens are generous is being proven as an aftermath of the disastrous fire Saturday when the Barr Lumber company's plant and the three residences adjoining burned to the ground. As a result of the conflagration, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Neel and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Neel and five children and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ratliff and children are homeless. Willing neighbors have thus far provided shelter for the three families, while the men remain at their work in order that they may soon be able to provide other homes for their families.

Although no public appeal has been made, individuals have generously given of their spare supplies and furniture until all the families concerned have become profuse in their praises of their fellow citizens' kindness and thoughtfulness.

It is known that the Elks have helped to make things more endurable and that the Methodist church organizations have come forward with plans for relief. One citizen offered a six-room house to the A. J. Neel family for a very nominal rental. Another has given freely of his wardrobe to help replace the clothing destroyed in the blaze.

"The people of Orange have certainly been very kind to us all," stated A. J. Neel, who is the flagman at the Southern Pacific crossing on West Chapman avenue.

Orange Merchants To Dine Tonight

ORANGE, March 16.—A large attendance of members is expected at tonight's dinner meeting, according to William G. Hagen, secretary of the Merchant and Manufacturers' association.

The banquet will begin at 6:30 p. m. at the Hotel Rochester. The business meeting and entertainment will follow the dinner. A substitute act has been arranged to take place of the Mono twins. Replies to the Home Loyalty league's letters, sent out recently by the chamber of commerce will be read and discussed by the group.

College Head Is School Speaker

ORANGE, March 16.—Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, president of Mills college, Oakland, gave an address to the students of the Orange union high school yesterday morning.

Lloyd McClure, student body president in '23 and '24, was among those at the assembly.

ORANGE

ORANGE, March 16.—The following were among the Orange visitors at Balboa Saturday evening: Mr. and Mrs. Jess Coe and daughters, Sally and Dorothy; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Bookless, Miss Nelwyn Holt, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Arguello, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carothers, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Coe, Cecil Mailbach, Glad Robinson, Earl Granger and Roy Edwards.

David T. Ross and Miss Sara Kate Ross, of San Juan Capistrano, accompanied their small brother, Charles, to Orange this morning, where he underwent an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Wade will leave March 18 for their home in Vancouver after spending the winter in Orange.

Judge and Mrs. G. W. Ingle attended the Mission play at San Gabriel Sunday.

Leo Armstrong, with his wife and son, has left for Ames, Iowa. The Armstrongs have been visiting Mrs. Armstrong's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Mathews.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Frost and family, of Ducor, arrived in Orange Sunday at attend the funeral of Mr. Frost's mother, Mrs. L. Frost.

Mrs. Frank Honey is spending a week at her cottage at Laguna Beach.

Mrs. Lucian Flippen and Mrs. M. M. Fishback charmingly entertained a coterie of former school friends Saturday with a delicious four-course luncheon at the Fishback home, 284 North Glassell street. Those present were Miss Rose A. Davis, Miss T. G. Dripps, (Mae Crowell) of Placentia; Mrs. Eva Crowell Wimsant, of Placentia; Miss Ida Crowell, of El Modena; Mrs. Marjorie Northcross Joplin, of Santa Ana; Miss Katherine Northcross, Miss Minerva Hayward, Mrs. Jennie E. Parker, Mrs. Lucian Flippen and Mrs. M. M. Fishback.

Why Endure a Bad Back?

Get Rid of It By Keeping Your Kidneys Active

LIFE seems pretty dreary when the kidneys slow down, and backache, dizziness and bladder irregularities begin. Neglect at this stage is dangerous, because kidney inactivity may lead to dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Don't take the risk! Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are recommended the world over. Ask your neighbor!

HOLD SOUTHERN COUNTIES MEET SATURDAY

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

"I've left all sports, horse racing, pinocle and poker behind and I'm going to become a business man at the age of 60 and who knows but that I may become another kind of a champion."

In these words the rather tragic story is told of Jack McAuliffe, the retired undefeated lightweight champion and the only survivor of those three immortal Jacks—Sullivan, Dempsey and McAuliffe.

It is also a brief and punchy story of the sharp line that has been drawn between the fighting champions of the old days and the commercial artists who hold the titles today.

McAuliffe fought in the old days when the sheriff followed fighters and when anyone connected with the prize ring was not welcomed in first class social circles.

He fought in the days when a fighter would have to stick up a bank to get $30,000 and when a purse of $500 was a big risk for a promoter.

Even though the revenue from the ring was trivial there were other ways in which a champion could capitalize on his reputation. The movies didn't offer a field then but burlesque shows and billiard parlors offered a fine living.

Jack McAuliffe at several times was worth a fortune but he went through several of them, as he admits without any kind of a complaint.

"The standards of living were different in those days," he said. "Any one who had money had to be and wanted to be a royal good fellow."

Now the veteran champion, the only one who ever retired from the ring without ever having been defeated, is going to work for the Triangle Conduit company, a New York concern, for a small salary and a commission.

Considering the hardships of his youth and the wear and tear that he went through in the old bare-knuckle days, Jack has retained his youth almost remarkably. He hasn't a blemish on his face as a trade mark of his early profession and in appearance, even when things were not going so well, he could have been taken for a successful middle-aged business man.

Bob Cannefax, former three-cushion billiard champion of the world, is fighting for his life against tuberculosis in Phoenix, Arizona, and in his characteristic spirit of optimism he has written his New York friends that he is going to lick it in a year.

Cannefax, who is one of the greatest of all players at the three-cushion game, has had his ups and downs and has survived trials that few men are asked to bear. He lost a leg in his youth as a result of an accident when he was playing baseball, but he didn't lose heart and kept going.

The same pluck that carried him along to a world's championship is now stimulating him for the hardest fight of all and his thousands of friends all over the country believe him when he says he'll lick it.

Not only in New York, where he has lived for years, but in every one of the hundreds of towns he has visited on frequent tours, Cannefax made a legion of friends with the art of his game and the cheerfulness of his disposition.

EDDIE COLLINS BANKS ON TWO "IRON MEN"

SCHALK
1655 Games
in

SCOTT
Consecutive Games

Everett Scott and Ray Schalk will be White Sox teammates this season. They are two of the game's greatest "iron men." Scott for consecutive playing and Schalk as a catcher. Despite their long service Manager Eddie Collins expects much of them in the coming campaign.

JACK DELANEY STOPS M'TIGUE IN FOURTH

NEW YORK, March 16.—Jack Delaney qualified for another chance at Paul Berlenbach by stopping Mike McTigue, former holder of the light heavyweight championship, in the fourth round of a scheduled 12 round match at the new garden last night.

The Bridgeport boxer floored the veteran Irishman in the fourth round and Referee Haley stopped the bout after Mike had taken the count of nine. The bout goes into the records as the first knockout scored on McTigue.

The ex-champion had little more than courage and Delaney, in the opinion of most sports writers, took every round.

BY BILLY EVANS

Not so with Eddie Collins, famous leader of Chicago White Sox. He is more concerned over the condition of his veterans.

Just how good his veteran spitball pitcher, Red Faber, will be is one of his problems. Faber is starting his thirteenth season with the White Sox.

I know any number of players who would view their thirteenth season in the majors with considerable apprehension, not to say superstition. Faber isn't a bit busy about the hoodoo number.

Seeks 20 Victories

"I am going to win 15 games for Eddie this year and, with the breaks, I might get 20."

That was the way Faber summed up his chances of having a good year. He looks in fine shape and if trying will win from 15 to 20 battles, "Red" will turn the trick.

However, the two chief worries of Collins is Catcher Ray Schalk and shortstop Everett Scott.

These two veterans enjoy the unique distinction of not only being outstanding stars at their positions, but "iron men" as well, to use the parlance of baseball.

Scott holds all records for continuous play with 1307 games to his credit, while Schalk has caught 1655 games over a period of 14 seasons.

For 11 consecutive years Schalk set a record that will stand for many years, if not all time. He took part in 100 or more games each season. He ended the streak in 1924, when injuries kept him out of the fray most of the year. He did a comeback last season, officiating in 125.

Schalk Needed Badly

It is impossible to compute what it means to the Chicago White Sox to have Schalk able to take part in from 100 to 130 ball games. His superb direction back of the plate is needed in every game.

With Schalk doing bench duty, it is conservative to say the effectiveness of the pitching staff is diminished 20 per cent. That will give you a slight idea of what his presence in the game means.

While Manager Huggins of New York and Harris of Washington cut loose from Scott, Eddie Collins is placing much dependence on the work of the veteran. He is banking on Scott to help solve the shortstop situation, the one flaw in the White Sox machine.

No wonder Manager Eddie is much concerned over the condition of Scott and Schalk.

AL CLAYES ROW TO BE SETTLED AT MEET TODAY

Final disposition of the eligibility squabble over Al Clayes, sensational Santa Ana football and track athlete, was to be made this afternoon when representatives of all Southern California junior colleges met at Pasadena.

Coach Graham Harris was to represent Santa Ana and he intend to make a strong defense for Clayes. He admitted today, however, that the outlook was none too bright.

On the decision, rests whether Clayes will be able to compete in the Southern California Junior College conference meet here April 3.

Technically, Clayes is a five semester man and barred under the pending conference rules. He has had only one season of track, however, and Coach Harris contends that an athlete should be allowed two seasons of each sport.

A proposal to amend the league rules to permit an athlete with less than 56 units to have two seasons will be pressed by Coach Harris.

Final arrangements for the conference track meet will be made at the coaches meeting. An outline for the rest of the year's athletic activities will be completed. A tennis tournament and a swimming meet are in prospect.

Londos Defeats Kotsonaros In Rough Mat Bout

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—Jim Londos still is wrestling champion of the Hellenic islands, as a result of his bout with George Kotsonaros here last night.

The first fall was awarded to Londos on a foul, after his compatriot planted a pile-driver right hand wallop to Jimmy's mid-section, knocking him out.

Kotsonaros jumped on the weakened Londos and took the second fall, but after a short rest, the Greek champion came back and took the third and the match.

MISSION BEARS GINCH TO END RACE WELL UP

By VIC KLEE
(Sports Editor San Francisco Herald)

STOCKTON, Calif., March 16.—If pitching and catching mean anything in modern baseball, William H. McCarthy's Mission Bears will be there or thereabouts when the curtain is rung down on the last act of the 1926 Pacific Coast league season. Whether the ultimate destination of the new club is actually there or merely thereabouts is going to depend on other factors than the work of the pitchers and catchers.

When you assemble on one ball club a chucking corps consisting of Bert Cole, Jimmy Christian, "Wee" Ludolph, Ed Bryan, Herman Pill-eute, Joe Oeschger and "Buzz" Eckert, you have observed the first rule of diamond self-defense. Back such a pitching staff with catchers like Denny Murphy, Al Walters and Walter Schmidt, and you virtually clinch a spot in the first division, provided the rest of your club is fair, and McCarthy's is at least that.

Four Positions Open.

Of the seven positions in the infield and outfield, four are open to competition. "Ducky" Jones will play third, Jimmy McDowell is the first baseman and Ike Boone will fraternize with the right field fence. Paddy Siglin, Neal Finn and Wes Griffin will have to settle between them the identity of the Bears' second sacker. Candidates for short include Carl Schmehl, turned over to Manager McCordie by Detroit in the Warner deal; Bill Rodda, and Gordon Slade. Schmehl appears to have an edge on the two kids by reason of his greater experience. All three are good fielders. The one who hits hardest and oftenest will land the berth.

Battling for recognition alongside Boone in the outfield are the veteran Ike Volfer, Evay Swanson, the college flash who will be the Archdeacon of the league going to first; Bob Gillespie, Tom Oliver, Hubert Mason, Clarence Hutchinson and George Collins. The young outfielders will have to show plenty if they are to keep Volfer on his bench. If Swanson can cope with the college pitcher he is set, for the Lombard college boy is a corking fielder and chained lightning on the paths.

Reputed as Slugger.

Mason comes from the Binghampton club of the New York and Pennsylvania league with a reputation as a great hitter. Rose is a strapping Oakland buster, a left-handed hitter who takes a real cut at the ball. Oliver was with the club part of last season, as was Gillespie. Hutchinson is a San Joseico boy who has been flirting with a college league berth for the past two seasons.

With the first league games less than a month away the outfit assembled by McCarthy and McCordie looms as a potential pennant winner and a first division certainty, barring unusual bad luck. When some of the unknown quantities in the infield and outfield are reduced to terms of the finite, it will probably develop that the San Francisco Seals need not go abroad for competition.

BUCKY HARRIS SAYS SENATORS WILL COP FLAG

TAMPA, Fla., March 16.—Washington will have to win another American league pennant this season or break the heart and bankroll of the entire city of Tampa.

Unlike the people of cities in which the other major league teams are training in this section, those of Tampa have taken almost exclusive property rights to "Bucky" Harris and his band of Senators.

Those who haven't the time, take the time to go to the ball park and show their claim to a personal connection with the team by addressing the players each by his first name.

Harris, who is ranked socially as, one of the first citizens, feels sure that his team will deliver without too much exertion.

"No other team in the league has been improved any more than we," Harris said. "We won last year against tough opposition why should we fail this year," he asked.

Bush, Tobin With Team

The young manager of the Senators figures that his team has been greatly strengthened by the addition of Joe Bush and Johnny Tobin and by a marked improvement in the batting and fielding of Joe Harris. He laughs off the opinion of the critics who have visited his camp that the veteran pitchers will not deliver as they did last year.

When Harris traded Tom Zachary and Winn Ballou to the St. Louis Browns for Bush and Tobin, the wise birds said George Sisler had put one over on him, but Harris contends that Tobin will be one of the best outfielders this year.

"Joe Harris is a new ball player," Bucky said. "He has been playing since the war with one eye as a result of a bayonet wound he got in France. He was operated on during the winter and regained the use of his other eye. He is so good I don't know what to do with him. Guess I'll have to alternate him between right field and first base where he can help out Joe Judge."

Pack in Lineup

With the exception of Tobin, the team will be started as it played last year. Peck, despite his bad showing in the last world's series, will be back at shortstop with Buddy Myers in reserve. Bluege will play third, Harris second and Judge on first. "Goose" Goslin, Sam Rice and Tobin and Joe Harris will make up the outfield. "Muddy" Ruel and Benny Tate will do the work behind the plate.

Four veterans, Walter Johnson, Stan Coveleski, Joe Bush and "Dutch" Reuther will be used as the regular pitchers, with "Curley" Ogden and "Fip" Marberry as first call reserves.

Johnson, Coveleski and Reuther are said by Mike Martin, trainer, to be in the best shape he has ever seen them and Bush reported to the club in fine condition. Harris expects Johnson to win 20 games or more, Coveleski 18 to 20, Bush 20 and Reuther 15 to 18 or better.

Oak Flyhawk Would Leave Gardens For Role of Moundsman

"Buzz" Arlett, once star pitcher of the Pacific Coast league, and last year star slugger for the Oaks, thinks his arm has come back and he wants to return to the slab from the outfield.

GRIZZLIES AND BEARS 'IN' AS 'Y' CHAMPIONS

Beginning the last lap of the Santa Ana Y.M.C.A. Younger Boys' Basketball league, the "bear" teams of the two circuits today had clinched the championship honors.

While the Richland Avenue Bears of the Hi-Y division, were passed a forfeit, the Tustin Presbyterian Grizzlies, pioneer champions, walloped the United Presbyterian Apaches, 21 to 9, at the Y.M.C.A. Saturday.

The Bears arranged a practice match with the Santa Ana high school Sagamos and were defeated, 13 to 11. The defeat will not go down on the books, however, so the Bears still hold an unmarred string of league victories.

The finish line in the conference tilts will be crossed next week.

The lineups:

B. TO STAGE FOURTH ANNUAL TRACK CLASSIC

Race Between Breeding and McCormick May Be Day's Most Sensational Tiff

Huntington Beach's own track classic—the annual Southern Counties meet—will be held next Saturday and already enough entries have been made to assure the customary success of the affair. This year's meet will be the fourth of its kind held on the Huntington Beach high school athletic enclosure.

Santa Ana, San Diego, Fullerton, Tustin, Chaffey, San Bernardino, Harvard Military, Anaheim, Orange and San Diego Military schools already have made to take part. "Flowery" Paul, captain, whose injured leg has kept him out of competition for several weeks is rounding in good condition again and is almost a certain starter in the low hurdles and the broad jump, two events which he is counted on for first places.

Poly Criples O. K.

Bob McKean, Harold English and Gerald Twist also are running regularly now and they are almost certain to toe the starting line in their respective events.

Orange county fans also will get their first glimpse of Santa Ana's crack miler, Harold Breeding, whose improvement in the past three weeks has been nothing less than remarkable. Breeding reported for track practice a month ago. He ran 4:59 his first start, was clocked in 4:51 two weeks later and raced home ahead of a big field in the Chaffey Invitational classic last Saturday in the rapid time of 4:45. He is constantly improving and the marks show and, lot of wise track experts figure he is going to be a dangerous contender for first place honors in the Southern California Intercollegiate this season.

Breeding vs. McCormick

Breeding will meet one of the best prep milers in the state Saturday in McCormick of San Diego, who has beaten 4:40 on several occasions. Breeding already has proved his ability and Saturday's race will determine whether he is one of those athletes who happen along about once in 10 years and develop championship form in a single year.

Another interesting personage who will participate in the Huntington Beach gathering is "Tiny" Moeller, San Diego's giant discus thrower and shot putter. Wild stories have been circulated to the effect that in practice Moeller has hurled the Greek implement better than the world's record. He is supposed to have tossed the round toy a cool 155 feet, not once but several times in competition. However, Moeller never has been more than just a good weight man, but he may get off one of his "practice" throws Saturday and do some record shattering of his own. At any rate, his work will be watched with the closest interest.

POLY TENNIS TEAM FACES ACADEMY MEN

Racquet wielders of the Santa Ana high school tennis team were to meet Harvard Military academy players here today in a practice tournament on the Poly courts.

As an early season affray, the match was to test the strength of the Poly set, four times this year and it may indicate what the team will do in the Coast Preparatory league circuit.

Two of last year's players are returned. Little George Preble, ace of the court, will succeed Randolph Bell as first singles. Jack Warner is the other last year's player returning.

Other likely candidates are Orville Schuchardt, Raymond Dixon, Gorham Smith, Everett Trostle, Faris Edgar and George Butler. Coach Walter Scott will have charge of the team.

The Aintree course, near Liverpool, where the Grand National Steeplechase has its annual renewal this month, is 4 mile 858 yards long, and there are thirty fences to be jumped. The majority of these fences are of them thickened with gorse, and they have an average height of five feet and a width of 3 feet.

GEORGE DUNCAN—DESCRIBES HIS CLUBS

Of late there has been a good deal of discussion as to the golfer's kit—how many clubs he or she should carry, and the kind that are particularly adapted to the use of the average player.

Having been asked to set down my views on this subject, it is an almost essential prelude that I should give details of my own equipment, for, naturally, one has faith in the collection that one has evolved after many years of trial.

We know that Miss Alexa Stirling, former United States woman champion, makes a very successful job of the use of 15 clubs, and that J. H. Kirkwood, the open champion of Australia and New Zealand, is content with seven. (These are by way of being extremes in abundance and scarcity—at any rate in the case of golfers who are bidding for the world's highest honors on the links.)

If I may lay the flattering unction to my soul, my set of nine clubs represents the happy medium. It is constituted as follows:

Driver Brassie
Spoon
Driving-Iron
Mashie-Iron
Mashie
Mashie-Niblick
Putter

Stubborn Coughs Quickly Stopped This New Way

It is often surprising how the most persistent, hacking cough that not only robs you of strength and sleep, but often leads to more serious trouble, yields quickly to a simple but wonderfully effective treatment.

This treatment is based on the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You take just one teaspoonful at bed time and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of night coughing. So with the cause removed, the coughing stops quickly, your sleep undisturbed, and the entire cough condition soon disappears.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, sore throat, hoarseness, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children as well as grown-ups—no harmful drugs. Economical too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

A Double Treatment for Colds

It is an obstinate cold that can resist the direct, double action of Vicks VapoRub. When it is rubbed over throat and chest at bedtime, Vicks acts in two ways at once:

- (1) Direct to the inflamed air passages with its medicated vapors, released by the body heat; and
- (2) Direct through the skin like an old-fashioned poultice, "drawing out" the tightness, soreness and pain.

Head or chest colds may easily sap your vitality and undermine your health. Don't neglect them.

The last meeting of the John Muir P.T.A. was held Tuesday. As this was "Fathers' night" the meeting was held in the evening instead of the afternoon. Mrs. Ray Wyckoff, president, was ill, so Mrs. John Luxemburger, first vice president took the chair. After a short business meeting a program was put on.

Robert White sang "The Little Irish Girl," and followed this by "Duna," he so pleased his audience that they insisted on an encore number. He complied by singing "Mother o' Mine." He was accompanied by Miss Hulsick.

Miss Grimshaw's little third graders gave a charming little play called "The Butterfly." The children showed they had been well drilled. The scene was a picture out of fairyland and the story was very beautiful, portraying as it did, the emerging of the butterfly from his cocoon and the coming forth in all the glory of his beautiful colors. The principal parts of the play were taken by the following: the butterfly, Charlotte Mock; Mother Nature, Bonnie Bright; Spring, Madeline Strain; Summer, Walter Cullen; Autumn, Shirley Lindgren, and Winter, Archie Brock. The rest of the class represented trees.

A perfect ending of a perfect evening was had in the delicious gingerbread topped with whipped cream and a bit of green to honor St. Patrick, which the grade mothers served with coffee.

The first grade had the most mothers present, so the first grade has the picture for the month.

Julia Lathrop
The Julia Lathrop Parent-Teacher association has taken up a new and very important branch of work in the formation of study circles, using the book "The Child: His Nature and His Needs," which has been officially designated for that purpose by the national congress of parents and teachers. It is hoped that the Lathrop parents will show a genuine interest in this work and that there will be a large attendance at the next regular meeting on the afternoon of March 18 when Mrs. Earl Morris, state chairman of education will be present to conduct a model class.

The Children's foundation is a public service institution established for the study of child life and for the dissemination of knowledge pertaining to the well-being and education of children. It was founded through the initial gift of Mrs. Lewis Myers of Valparaiso, Indiana, and was chartered by the state of Indiana as a corporation not for profit in 1921. Its objects are distinctly educational.

In determining how the Children's foundation might immediately render effective service in promoting the well-being of children, the counsel of many students of child life, educators, social workers and parents was sought. It was decided that the Foundation would take an inventory of present day knowledge pertaining to child nature and the well-being of children, and would present this knowledge in such form that it could be understood and utilized practically by those who are charged with the care and culture of the young.

It was for this purpose that the first contribution of the Children's Foundation, the volume, "The Child: His Nature and His Needs," was published in 1924. This book makes available for practical use the present day knowledge relating to the nature, well-being and education of children.

John Dewey, the great educator, has said: "What the best and wisest parents want for their own child, that must the community want for all its children." The Julia Lathrop P.T.A. earnestly wishes to establish a community center in this wonderful work that shall prove to be of lasting benefit to the entire community. A cordial invitation is extended to all parents in the schools which have not established study circles in their local associations to join with the one at Lathrop. One need not be a member of the P.T.A. to attend these classes and the timid need feel no hesitation in attending, as the classes will be conducted by leaders who will present the work in such a manner that it will embarrass no one by reason of lack of preparation or inability to speak in public.

RUBE DAY AT GROVE SCHOOL BIG SUCCESS

Students Attend School in All Manner of Bizarre Garb; Parade Is Feature

By MARY HESS
GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, March 16.—Tramps? No, just rubes. And it was the best rubes' day ever experienced at Garden Grove high.

Soon after 7 o'clock the rubes began to arrive at the high school. Many a rube brought forth peals of laughter and giggles from his fellow rubes. For instance, Robert Prior, was an excellent rube. His shoes were large, the corduroys he wore would probably fit a 6-year-old boy and being fastened at the ankles, scarcely came up to his thighs, and were held up with long worn out suspenders hardly able to be trusted to such work. His face was comically painted, his curly hair was stringily fussed under an old derby. It was very necessary that he walk like an old goose on account of his small trousers. Robert won the prize offered for the best Rube.

James Parks, or rather Mrs. Harry Munz, was a wonderful wife and mother with the use of a wig, lip stick, powder, ear-rings and a woman costume, vanity case, fan and a crying doll whose only word was for the darling Ma-ma-a-a. Mr. Munz was a fond, but kettle-stomached father. Another well-dressed person was Hattie Patterson. She was garbed in a rather trashy outfit and carried a huge bottle on her hip. There was also a "legless" daughter, Dutch girls, grand mothers, hoop skirts, small children with dolls and toys and some walking rag bags, besides negroes and fat boys. One interesting feature was a 1910 Maxwell which was alternately driven and pushed by Earl McCullah and Brooks Stroud.

A parade through town was a main feature of the day, besides the usual taking of pictures. A ball game after school with the Frances Willard junior high of Santa Ana, in which the score was 7 to 2 in favor of Garden Grove, completed the success of the day.

BUSINESS PROGRESSES
WINNIPEG, Man., March 16.—Substantial progress was made by the dairy industry of Manitoba during 1925, as shown by the annual report of the provincial dairy branch. The production of creamery butter was 13,663,312 pounds, an increase of 1,030,508 pounds over 1924.

CANADA LEADS WORLD
MONTREAL, Quebec, March 16.—Canada now leads the world in the generation of electric power per capita, according to the latest statistics available, having a per capita generation of 878 kw. hours. Switzerland comes next with 505, and the United States third, with 484.

THE VALUE OF TIME

Do you value your time as you value your money? Are you spending your spare moments at something worth while?

Many articles can be purchased with money, but the hours and days which you let pass by cannot be purchased with any amount. They are moments of the past and cannot be repaired mechanically as other objects which you possess. The only way to get the full value from your time is to plan, to work earnestly and willingly, toward the highest goal. Never be satisfied by standing on the first few steps of the ladder but have ambition to climb higher and higher.

Many people who could have made a success of life have stopped merely because they have climbed the first few steps of their ladder and become satisfied with a small salary. Are you in this class or have you higher ambitions?

Few people know how to use their spare moments to obtain the best results from them. There are correspondence schools that one may attend who cannot enter higher institutions.

COURTESY TO TEACHERS
Do you ever stop to think that, way down beneath their stern exteriors, our teachers are human beings? They like to joke and laugh, now and then, like the rest of us and, I have no doubt, they often long to wring the necks of a few of us. A slight or any kind of discourtesy will hurt the feelings of a teacher just as much as it would one of ourselves. I am sure that they would be pleased to have us accept them more in the role of a friend and guide than that of a tyrant. They give the best years of their lives to work with and help us, and it seems that the least we could do to repay them, in some small degree for their sacrifice, is to treat them with the courtesy and respect due one gentleman or lady from another.

TORONTO HAS 670,945
TORONTO, Canada, March 16.—Greater Toronto has a population of 670,945, according to a report of the assessment commissioner. The report gives the population of the city proper as 549,429.

Whether at home or abroad, in city or town, when chance acquaintances meet, during the general conversation, all thought of wealth, poverty, weather or anything else, for that matter, are lost in the usual, "O, I say, that makes me think of the story of Pat in the museum. Have you heard it? Well, Pat was looking at a copy of the "Winged Victory."

"And what may yez call that?" he asked an attendant.

"That is a statue of 'Victory,' sir," was the reply.

Pat surveyed the headless and armless statue with renewed interest.

"Victory, is it?" he said. "Thin, begorry, O'd like to see the other fellow."

"Ha, ha," said the other, "that is good, but here's a better one. Mr. McGuire (to hospital attendant), 'What did ye say the doctor's name was? Attendant, 'Doctor Kilpatrick.'"

Mr. McGuire: "That settles it. No doctor with that cognomen will get a chance to operate on me—not if I know it."

Mr. McGuire: "Well, ye see, my name is Patrick."

Thus it goes; one joke leads to another, and each is followed by one that is still better.

'Seems There Were 2 Irishmen' TUSTIN GIRL DIGS UP STORIES OF ERIN
What's March 17 Without Jokes

By JOSEPHINE ROY
TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, March 16.—What is the cause of laughter, someone may ask. Various things, but most generally good jokes. In pondering this thought, the question may arise as to who are the most cheerful people, and invariably will be the Irish. As to the truth of this statement, opinions may differ, but the general sentiment seems to be that the Irish has proved to be the most popular.

Whether at home or abroad, in city or town, when chance acquaintances meet, during the general conversation, all thought of wealth, poverty, weather or anything else, for that matter, are lost in the usual, "O, I say, that makes me think of the story of Pat in the museum. WOMAN EDITOR OF NEWSPAPER IN OKLAHOMA

"I often wonder why there are not more women engaged in publishing newspapers.

This is the expression of one who is a woman newspaper publisher and has been for a number of years—Mrs. T. B. Ferguson, editor and owner of the Watonga (Okla.) Republican, a paper her husband established when the Cheyenne and Arapaho Indian country was opened to white settlement in 1892.

"I know there are many women on news writers and reporters," says Mrs. Ferguson, "but not many who own and operate the business for themselves. It is work well adapted to women who are not afraid of work, gives one a well worth while place in the community and that feeling of independence is great."

Writing from 30 to 40 columns of news and feature articles each week, looking after the business department, reading proof and doing the one-hundred and one other things to be done in the printing office of a county seat weekly newspaper is a man's job, but in this particular case is held down by Mrs. Ferguson, the wife of the late ex-Governor Thompson B. Ferguson. She has carried on the publishing business most successfully since she was left alone by his death almost five years ago. She has good men in the mechanical department, but prefers to give the front office her personal supervision.

ORANGE ORCHESTRA PLEASES AT GROVE

By ROBERT PRIOR
GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, March 16.—Selections of classical music were played by the Orange high school orchestra at a pay assembly at the Grove high last Wednesday.

The orchestra gave several selections, chosen by Mrs. J. Orland Smith, director of the Garden Grove high school orchestra, for the benefit of her orchestra, which is working upon those pieces at the present time.

Percy Richards is director of the Orange orchestra, which is known as the best in Orange county.

There are 37 members in the orchestra, 31 of whom are freshmen and sophomores. The Indian Dance, played in fox trot time, was the encore, which brought much applause.

MORE MOTORS IN N. S.
HALIFAX, N. S., March 16.—The increase in the number of motor vehicles in Nova Scotia during recent years is well illustrated by the receipts of license fees collected. The last total showed $572,778 against only $14,839 eleven years ago.

The baseball team promises to make a success of both the first and second class players.

The clubs at Garden Grove this year are very active, although there are so many that every student cannot attend the entire group of clubs, and therefore, each student is only allowed to have membership in three clubs.

BURTON SMITH IS SPEAKER AT PRESS MEETING

State Editor of Los Angeles Times Tells of Thrilling Events in Reporter's Life

FULLERTON UNION HIGH SCHOOL, March 16.—Burton L. Smith, state editor of the Los Angeles Times, one of the best known newspaper men in Southern California, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Orange County High School Press association held at Orange high school.

Mr. Smith related a number of very thrilling experiences he had as a newspaper man. Judging from the action which the state editor of the Times has encountered in his journalistic career, the work of the reporter must be one continual round of rapid fire effort. His address was very illuminating and much appreciated by the young writers.

Mary Ann Watson, editor of the Orange Reflector, welcomed the members. Beth Fuller told of a trip taken by the Orange high school journalism class to a Los Angeles engraving plant. Walter Myers reported on a trip to the plant of the Los Angeles Times. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held at Tustin high school in April.

JUDGE SAYS HE'LL JAIL REPORTERS

Interest of the Fourth Estate is directed on Bay St. Louis, Miss., where Judge Walter A. White declares that he will jail all reporters who took part in the publication of stories of the trial of Jesse Favre, charged with murdering two government entomologists.

The nation-wide interest in the murder itself, one of Mississippi's most gruesome murders, was overshadowed by the judge's announcement and later the decision of newspaper publishers to publish the news of the trial despite the judge's orders.

Judge White officially ordered that no testimony in the case should be published in any newspaper circulated in Hancock county.

As the trial opened on March 5, newspaper men flocked to the trial and soon the telephone and telegraph wires were sending news of the trial to nearby cities where papers were printed and rushed into Bay St. Louis, a direct demand for a showdown.

Substitute reporters were on hand to relieve reporters who the judge threatened to send to jail. But the judge deferred action until after the trial, at which time, he says he will "deal with the newspaper men."

Judge White is 71 years old.

Explanation Of Mysterious Act At Grove Given

GARDEN GROVE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, March 16.—In a long room in an old apartment house sat a man, feverishly working. It had been many hours since the crowds had left the streets below. One could not see his face, but his strained posture betokened extreme care. He mumbled now and then, but this silent communion with himself did not interrupt his labor, and he worked on and on.

As the clock tolled half past eleven, he leaned back wearily in his chair. Something was wrong! He had worked and worked and now he seemed to have given up in utter defeat.

With a growl he leaped to his feet and made a rapid motion, as if with the intention of throwing something across the room. He stopped and stared in amazement, then with a hysterical laugh, he reached for a dangling wire and, stooping over a box, fumbled with a connection. Perhaps it was a bomb!

The man straightened up, touching a small button as he did so. The notes of a jazz orchestra floated out into the room and the D. K. hound, who had forgotten to connect the antenna, smiled with satisfaction and delight.

College Head Almost Gives An Interview

President Lawrence A. Lowell of Harvard recently broke a self-imposed silence long enough to confide to a Harvard alumnus, who is a newspaper man, that he had not spoken to the press for 17 years.

"This practice has been a great comfort to me," continued President Lowell, who was staying at the home of Barrett Wendell, Jr.

"I have made it a rule never to be interviewed. I never have anything to say to the newspaper men. I have followed this rule without a departure for 17 years. I do not intend to depart from it now."

"Shall you speak to the executive committee of the Federated Harvard Clubs when you lunch with the committee today?" asked the alumnus.

"Doubtful," said President Lowell.

"But you are going to make an address before the Harvard Club of Chicago, are you not? As a member, I was led to hope so," said the interviewer.

"Well—in any case, I never speak to the press."

TUSTIN GIRLS ENTHUSED OVER SEWING CLASS

By CELESTINE WHITE
TUSTIN UNION HIGH SCHOOL, March 16.—One of the special classes at Tustin high school which is considered by its members as most interesting is the class in decorative needlework conducted by Miss Helen Ryan, art instructor. The class is composed of 16 girls who meet with Miss Ryan on Mondays and Wednesdays during the assembly hour. They are now at work on pillows, scarfs, negligees, bags and dresses which are decorated in bright colors and fantastic designs.

Miss Ryan originates the designs which are so different that exclamations such as, "Isn't mine unique," or, "Isn't this a clever design," are continually heard. A few of the girls, who study art from Miss Ryan, are making their own designs.

This training is intended to develop good choice in colors, and also to give training in needle work.

Students should remember, if they ever forget it, that times flies. Soon the aforementioned open spaces will be open to exploration and the rolling of the eye balls will pass away, just like the headache of the man who was about to be hanged.

And then soon the summer will go and the longing for the school room will return.

Ah, yes, the ecstasies of spring fever belie any effort to belittle them.

But hark, dear children, the editor of the Junior Register hears the gentle heifers blowing!

Why Have Gray Hair?

Don't deceive yourself. No one really wants gray hair. The world accepts it as a sign that you are aging—and the world wants Youth.

Thousands of men and women whose hair was gray or becoming "streaked" have tried Kolor-Bak—and they are frankly delighted at the improvement it has made in their appearance.

For, with the aid of this clean, colorless liquid, gray hair regains its natural shade—not overnight as is so awkward and embarrassing when many dyes are used—but so gradually that the change can scarcely be seen from day to day. Yet results often appear in a week.

Kolor-Bak has the added virtues of a tonic. It gives the hair a beautiful softness and lustre and at the same time routs dandruff. Try it. No sample of your hair is required. The same bottle may be used by everyone. And you can get your money back if desired results do not appear. Guarantee in each package.

WHY WAS OUR POLL AS IT WAS?

No one in Santa Ana was surprised that the newspaper poll taken in Santa Ana showed a four to one sentiment in favor of prohibition and strict enforcement as against light wines and beer, but the vote seems to have aroused some interest elsewhere.

"What is the reason your city voted as it did?" This question came to The Register from the New York World yesterday.

If you were to answer the question, your answer might emphasize some points that were not emphasized in the reply sent by The Register to the New York newspaper. Our own analysis of the situation, as wired to The World, reads as follows:

"Orange county went dry twenty-five years ago, and this city voted out the saloons more than twenty years ago. Having tried it out and having found that they liked it, people here suffered no shock when the nation went dry. They went on living happily, contented, prosperous and undisturbed. From a population of 7,000 when the city voted dry, it has grown to be a city of 30,000. As a law-abiding community with ideals of good citizenship, good schools and honest administration of city and county affairs, men and women who liked that kind of a community have naturally been attracted here rather than to communities where laxity prevailed.

"This city has been pointed to as a city made up of typical American citizens. Home life is strong. We have no slums and no foreign quarter. We have no extremely wealthy class and no especially poor class. Our people are inherently law-abiding, and by experience are convinced that honest public officials backed up by the real American spirit of faith in law can keep a city so dry that whatever drinking there is counts for nothing as compared to what there would be with an open saloon. Residents of this county wouldn't trade their soil, climate, homes and scenery for all the booze in creation.

"The newspaper poll between prohibition and light wine and beer is in keeping with the sentiment expressed here whenever in recent years the dry and wet issue came to a vote at the polls."

HORSES SURVIVING

East St. Louis, Ill., "the world's largest horse and mule market," scoffs at the notion that there is no more demand for equine stock. There were 65,432 horses and mules sold in that city last year, an increase of 1,324 head over the year before, and the dealers expect a still larger volume of trade this year.

It is only the driving horse that has been displaced by the gas engine, they say. The horse can't compete with the passenger automobile for speed and endurance. But they find a demand for farm mules, in preference to tractors, throughout the South and in many parts of the North and West, and they report a larger demand now for commercial horses, because many business concerns in the cities find draft horses better than trucks for short hauls. The demand for saddle horses is as great as it has been at any time for 50 years.

This last fact is easily explainable. The saddle horse ministers to pleasure, and is cherished also as a part of the old tradition and a revolt against the mechanical tendency of the age. The farm mule, too, may hold out long. But possibly one of the St. Louis horsemen is wrong about it when he declares that "the heavy draft horse will always hold his place in the economic life of the city."

Granting the usefulness of that patient and powerful beast, still he will probably have to go before many years, yielding to the truck. Cities will have to banish him simply because he gets in the way and obstructs traffic.

BUMMING AROUND THE WORLD

The "open road" is romantic, especially if it leads to remote regions. But it is losing its romance and also its respectability, for a lot of American youths, Frank Buck, wild animal trainer and trapper, returning from Asia and Oceania, reports that the ports of the Far East are filled with bums and beachcombers in various stages of disreputableness, and those tolerant realms are growing weary of them.

"In the years I have traveled Asia and the islands of the warm waters," he says, "never have I seen so many roaming and stranded Americans. Lately I have found them everywhere—on the coasts, inland in the cities, even on the borders of the jungles.

"The latest addition to their ranks is the college youth 'working his way around the world' to complete his education." Some of these may have been to college, but apparently 'working their way' is the most remote of their ideas. They are simply begging their way.

"They live mostly a miserable life. The sympathy of American residents of those countries is wearing thin. It is getting harder and harder for the penniless travelers to get money out of their fellow-countrymen. The American association at Singapore has about decided to stop giving them aid."

Better stay at home, young fellows; finish your education in America; see America first, when you can afford it; and don't tackle the world tour until you have the money to bring you around and home again.

A MEDAL FOR A SLOGAN

The man who suggested the now widely known florists' slogan, "Say it with flowers," is to be honored for his achievement this summer by the presentation of a massive gold medal from the Association of American Florists. Other persons, it seems, sometimes claim credit for that inspired sentence, and the florists propose to settle the matter once for all by giving full credit and honor where they are due.

The name of the slogan genius is P. F. O'Keefe. He is an advertising man of Boston, Mass. Advertising men sometimes read poetry. Mr. O'Keefe does so frequently, and it was in a poem called "The Singing of the Birds" that he found the line.

"Flowers are words which even a babe may understand."

When a florist acquaintance of his, finding business slack, asked him to devise something to arouse public attention and make people think of flowers in a new way, the poetic line came to mind and the slogan, "Say it with flowers," followed soon.

It was a slogan with real pulling power, as public and florists agree. The wider use of flowers for every purpose and every occasion means more enjoyment for everybody.

Should Consider the Majority

San Bernardino Sun

Recently fifteen thousand school superintendents held a national convention in Washington. Many progressive ideas were advanced. One of the most progressive was that it was desirable to "articulate the high school more closely with the elementary school, instead of allowing it to be dominated by the colleges and universities, which demand high school teaching of subjects required only by the minority."

The present curriculum of the public schools, beginning with the first grade and becoming more and more pronounced from grade to grade until the senior year in the high school, is based upon the theory that the state university is the goal of every pupil. This assumption is utterly contrary to the actual conditions. Taking the country over, only about 5 per cent of those who enter the first grade ever matriculate in college, and less than 15 per cent even enter the first year of the high school, while only about 10 per cent graduate from the high school. Thus we have the training of 85 per cent of public school pupils shaped by the needs of only five per cent, who enter some university, while the great mass go out into the work of the world not as well prepared for it as they might and should be.

Criticism of this system of public education has been quite free for a number of years, chiefly on the part of thinking men and women who are not in educational work. Educators, having themselves been educated in the university goal idea, have not been patient or tolerant of such criticism. That is what makes this pronouncement by the superintendents both surprising and gratifying. It presages the time not far distant when the public schools shall have primarily in view the welfare of the great majority of pupils who will not be able to finish the full course, especially those who must leave school and go to work without even entering the high school. They constitute the bulk of our citizenship and their educational welfare is of the most importance, both to them and to society at large.

Automobile Drivers and Liquor

Pomona Progress

There are two things that do not go together, and those are automobile driving and liquor. As automobile driving increases, more care is constantly needed. Nobody ought to be let loose on the roads with a powerful machine, or a has-been for that matter, unless he is thoroughly master of himself, perfectly conscious of what he is doing, and in a condition to exercise good judgment.

An amount of liquor that might do no special harm in other circumstances will raise the mischief when a man gets behind a steering wheel. If he took the same amount in his own home he might show the effect simply by talking a little louder and faster than usual. While he might be considered to act foolishly, yet no special harm would be done.

But a man who is in that slightly excited state is not in possession of his normal faculties. A feeling of over-confidence possesses him. If he sees a narrow chance to cut in ahead of another car, or to seize the right of way that does not belong to him, he takes it. He is too confident that he can do it. He goes ahead and takes his chances, and a smash often results. A large part of the many accidents that are occurring and bringing a harvest of death, injury and misfortune, are due to this cause.

As a consequence the courts of many states are handing out severe penalties to those who are caught operating cars while under the influence of liquor. In this way can this evil be checked, it seems.

The great majority of drivers are sober and careful. But offset with the best of care they cannot keep out of the way of some hilarious operator who comes tearing through the streets and boulevards at breakneck speed, crowding other cars out and into the ditches and smashing into others that have the right of way. Public sentiment believes in drastic enforcement of the law as to intoxicated drivers.

New Law Is Needed

San Francisco Chronicle

The situation created by the decision of the United States Supreme Court nullifying state quarantine laws against insect pests and diseases affecting fruit and plant life will undoubtedly be remedied because it will have to be. The work of quarantine and control of fruit pests is too important to be undone. And it is certain that the hole opened by the court. Special legislation will be needed, but, with Congress in session and the agriculturists a unit in presenting the issue, the fears raised by the decision should soon subside.

Every state should be in a position to protect itself against pests likely to damage its crops. And this is especially true of California. As Dr. Hecke, State director of the California Department of Agriculture, points out, our enormous shipment of fruits, vegetables, dairy and other farm products are too important in the national food budget to have them menaced.

Most of the insects and pests which destroy fruit trees, fruit and other crops are importations from other states and from foreign countries. Almost every state has had experience with these pests in one form or another and has found it necessary to take precautions against their coming keeping out the Mediterranean fruit fly, entrance of which would be a calamity to our orchardists. And any sudden withdrawal of control is out of the question.

Congress, no doubt, will see that whatever safeguards have been temporarily withdrawn by the Supreme Court decision are speedily restored.

HELPING THE PUPIL WIN HEALTH

There are many fathers and mothers still who do not realize that a child in poor health can not do good school work. There are certain very common physical defects that seriously interfere with the child's development, both physically and mentally.

These defects are of such nature as to be easily discovered and usually satisfactorily remedied. Among the most common conditions which require attention in the very young child are the following: defective vision and hearing, defective and decayed teeth, enlarged tonsils and adenoids.

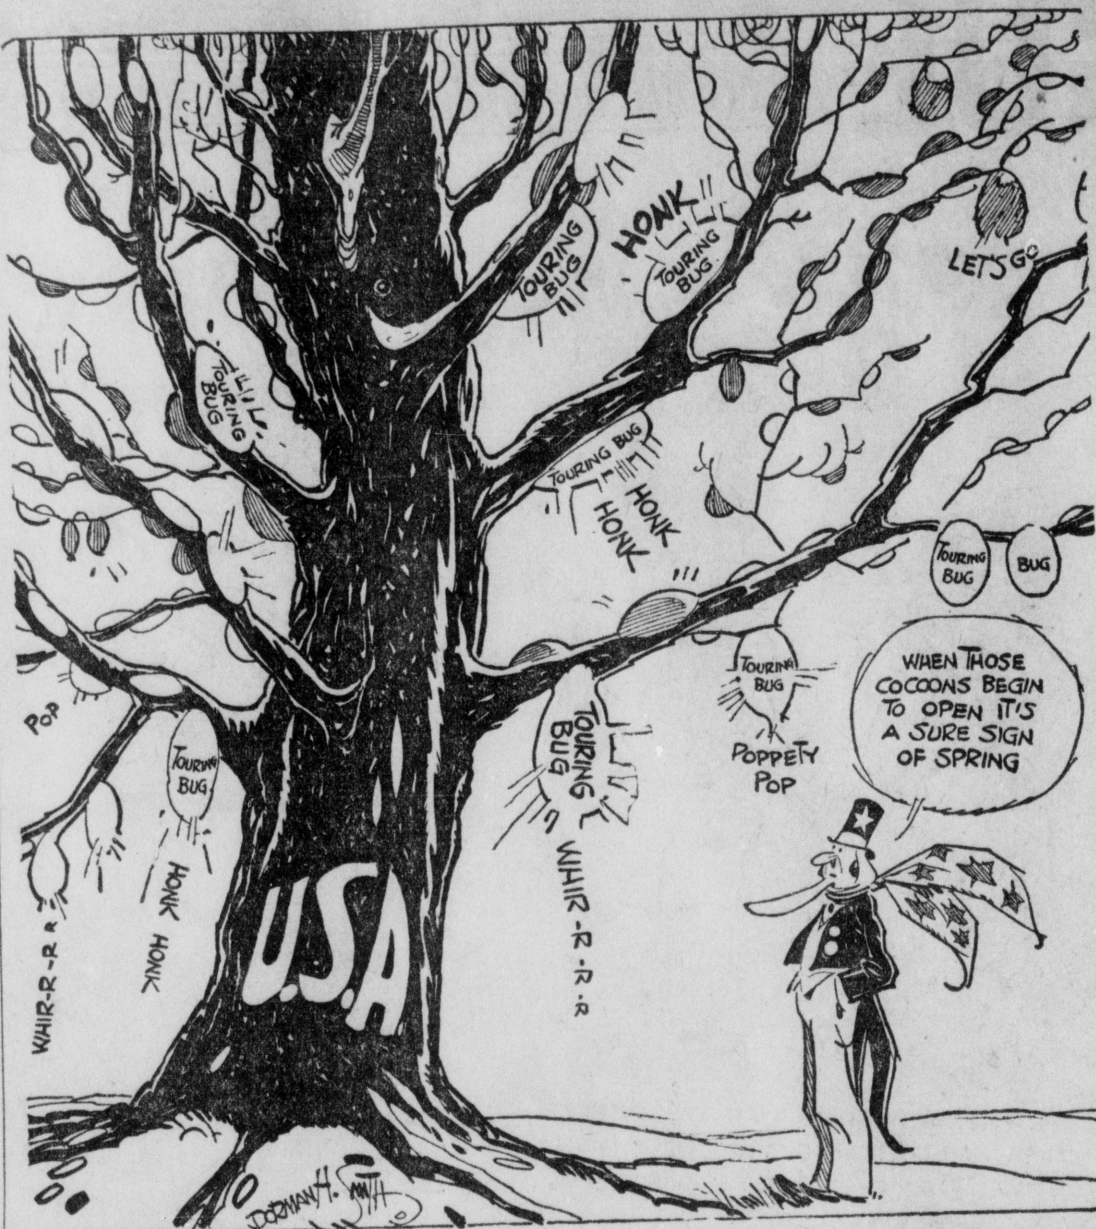

Examination by an oculist and correction of errors in vision will often prevent failure in studies and consequent discouragement.

Defective hearing may often follow infectious diseases among children of school age and is a frequent complication of diseased tonsils and adenoids.

Parents should watch their children and should observe how they breathe. Mouth breathing indicates an abnormal condition of the nose and throat. Remember that adenoids and diseased tonsils predispose to infectious diseases.

The examination for and the correction of faulty and diseased conditions of the child's teeth are also of very great importance.

Reclamation in West

Pasadena Star-News.

Reclamation of land is eagerly sought by states of the West. Several western commonwealths are besieging the Bureau of Reclamation to construct new federal reclamation projects. A grand total of more than $106,000,000 in new projects and divisions of old ones, is asked for by ten states of the West. Oregon leads with request for six projects, to cost more than $26,000,000. California asks for three projects, to costs nearly $10,000,000.

But the federal reclamation fund is diminishing, instead of increasing. There was a falling off, last year, of nearly $3,000,000, as compared with the year before. The average annual income of the reclamation fund for the last five years has been approximately $8,500,000. And so, from a business standpoint, the Bureau of Reclamation must scratch its head and ponder these requests for funds to build new reclamation projects.

But consider what reclamation of arid lands is doing for the West. Nearly 300,000 seventy-five pound boxes of grapefruit, oranges and lemons were grown on three irrigation projects in Arizona and California in 1925, according to official report of the Interior Department. On reclamation projects in California and Arizona citrus fruits yielded as much as $550 to $630 an acre. And so the reclaimed lands are justifying their reclamation. They are providing homes for many families and they are producing usefully and adding generously to the volume of produced riches in the West.

Worth While Verse

SOMEWHAT OF GOLD

Each mortal cherishes somewhat of gold
However wrought or shapen it may be;
The gleam of dawn or sunset seen at sea,
Or where unmisted mountain tops unfold;
A ring chased cunningly, mayhap an old
Jewel encased in dim antiquity;
A bracelet or a chain linked artfully
About the neck to clasp, fold upon fold.

Then there are golden moments that endure;
Though years may smother them, yet they survive
Perennially as does some golden flower;
But naught remains so vivid and alive
As does the heart's most precious cynosure—
The memory of Love's first golden hour!

California Politics

In the past fortnight two occurrences of consequence and interest in state politics have occupied some attention from those who follow California politics.

First, Supervisor McClellan of Los Angeles was announced as a candidate for the republican nomination for governor. Just what effect will that have on the candidacy of Rex B. Goodcell, who expects votes because he is from Southern California? And, upon C. C. Young? And what effect, if any, on Governor Richardson's chances?

To be sure, it is looked upon by Richardson folk as a boon. They say that the whole contest is Richardson and anti-Richardson—only that and nothing more. Richardson will carry his vote regardless of whether there is one or a round half-dozen able-bodied opponents in the field. So what's a McClellan more or less to Richardson?

It is known, at least known by those who have talked with C. C. Young backers, that Young is expecting a heavy vote in Los Angeles from the Mayor Cryer crowd. Will McClellan split up that vote? Hardly, say the Young people, for the reason that McClellan belongs to a group of county politicians and is not counted as of a Mayor Cryer city group. And the Goodcell followers say, "Let him run, he won't hurt Rex a bit."

And there you are! If McClellan heard these folks talk, he'd conclude that he wasn't going to get anybody's vote but his own.

Come Out for Young

Second event of consequence of recent date is the decision of the Sacramento Bee and the Fresno Bee, both powerful newspapers, to throw their support to C. C. Young.

Coming close on the heels of the endorsement of Young by the Stockton Record, Young people are elated because they believe the "break" toward Young has started.

Here are a few paragraphs from the Sacramento Bee's editorial announcement:

"Other than that of president of the United States, no political office in America calls for higher qualifications than that of governor of such a great state as California.

"The fact that the governor has a veto power over legislation, if alone considered, would make this plain. For that demands not only sound judgment but unusual knowledge and experience in state affairs; also a broad acquaintance with legislation in general.

"So if the election of a governor in November were to be wholly non-partisan in character, the choice of the people could not be more wisely bestowed than by the selection of C. C. Young, now lieutenant governor, for the higher office.

"He is conspicuously well qualified by ability, experience and force of character. For ten years he was a member of the assembly, and during six of them he was speaker of that body. And in the capacity of lieutenant governor he has presided for eight years in the senate of the state.

"This is an extraordinary record, and it has been filled in every respect with honor and distinction.

"For in all this long period of service to the public, Young's ruling aim has been the welfare and progress of the state.

"The Republican party would honor itself by placing him at the head of its ticket.

"For Young is a statesman, not a mere politician; he is guided by principle, not by considerations of personal advantage."

Goodcell and Richardson
Rex B. Goodcell has resigned as U. S. collector of internal revenue in Los Angeles in order to make his race for governor. He says that there is no probability of withdrawal from the race.

Governor Richardson has not made any announcement of his candidacy. It is expected that he may hold off the announcement for another month, allowing the opponents to get so far into the race that they cannot back out.

E. P. Clarke's Observations
E. P. Clarke, editor of the Riverside Press, on a recent trip in the upper part of the state, talked politics with quite a number of leaders. Clarke, a shrewd observer and analyst, wrote the following for his paper:

"As the state campaign begins to develop it is interesting to sound out public sentiment in various parts of the state. I have had the opportunity on this trip to talk with several newspaper men and other leaders of public opinion in this part of the state, especially regarding the campaign for governor; you hear very little talk as yet about United States senator, but so far as I can judge the candidacy of Judge Clarke or of Congressman Linberger has as yet attracted very little attention in this part of the state. The people here know Senator Shortridge but they do not know the two candidates from Southern California.

"I was specially interested in having the opportunity for quite an extended talk with Irving Martin, editor of the (Stockton Record) which is one of the leading dailies of this part of the state and Senator Frank S. Boggs who happened to be in the Record office when I called.

"Both of these gentlemen would have been for C. L. Nuemiller of Stockton for governor had he decided to be a candidate; but he is definitely out of the race and now they are strongly for C. C. Young, present lieutenant governor. Their estimate is that the withdrawal of Nuemiller has greatly strengthened Mr. Young's chances; and they cite the fact that the Sacramento Bee and the Fresno Bee have come out for Young as conclusive evidence that State Superintendent Will C. Wood will not be a candidate and proof that the "progressive" forces are now well lined up for Young.

They claim that Sheriff Finn and other political leaders in San Francisco who have been reluctant to accept Young have now decided to do so and that his candidacy is receiving strong support from the "public ownership" group in Los Angeles with which Mayor Cryer is affiliated. They concede very little strength for Governor Richardson in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys and advance the view that while Judge Goodcell will not be a serious factor in those valleys, he is likely to split the Richardson vote in Southern California (a view in which I do not concur). It must be remembered that this estimate comes from men who are frankly and consistently anti-administration; it is true, however, that they are both shrewd and able men and certainly ought to be well posted on public sentiment in this part of the state.

"As an offset to this view I talked with F. J. O'Brien, editor of the Chico Enterprise who is an earnest supporter of Governor Richardson, a shrewd and able man of recognized ability and long experience. He is very much impressed by the endorsement of Young by the Sacramento Bee in view of the fact that Young is a "dry" of rather an extreme type, while the Bee is decidedly "wet."

His estimate is that Governor Richardson is still very strong in the two great interior valleys of the state and that with the position vote divided between Young and Goodcell the governor's nomination is well assured. "The conclusion seems to be that estimates on magnitude of the political stars rising about the horizon depend a good deal on what telescope you are using."

Clarke Alone Active
About the only activity noticeable in the fight for the Republican nomination for United States senator is that shown by Judge Robert M. Clarke of Los Angeles. Clarke recently sent out an endorsement of his candidacy by Catalina Island.

Perhaps the hottest shot fired during the campaign this year came from Judge Clarke in an interview in which he said that the support of the Los Angeles Times would be a handicap. The Los Angeles Record reports the following:

Judge Clarke declared the announced opposition of the Times to his candidacy resulted from his outspoken championship of a high dam at Boulder canyon and of the All-American canal, as well as his friendship toward labor.

Judge Clarke said: "Any Republican candidate for public office who has views contrary to those of the Times, and who has the courage of his convictions and will give expression to them, will not fare well, as far as the Times is concerned, in the coming August primaries.

"I lost the Times' support, if I might ever have expected it, on last Labor day, when I spoke at the labor picnic.

"I lost for two reasons—one because I was pleased to speak to union men and women on their holiday; the second because I announced myself in favor of a high dam at Boulder canyon and an all-American canal as 'proble', not by considerations of personal advantage."

Lucky for Judge
"While advocating reapportionment of the state and urging further representation of the Southland, the Times announces itself further as supporting Senator Shortridge, thus giving San Francisco two United States senators for a period of 12 years at least; for it has been 10 years since a resident of Southern California sat in the United States senate.

"It is most fortunate for me that I will have such opposition as the Times.

"In the first place Senator Shortridge cannot ask for the support of labor and the support of the Boulder Dam association, and at the same time be the candidate of the Times.

"The electorate cannot reconcile these two facts.

"I am glad that Senator Shortridge has to carry the load of the Times' support upon his shoulders and that the burden bearer is not to be myself."
